Strike on at the Merrimack Mills as Result of Wage Reduction

No Notices Posted But Strikers Say Reduction is 20 Per Cent and Over—No Statement From Company—Exact Number of Strikers Not Known at Strike Headquarters—Loomfixers to Hold Meeting

There is a strike on at the Merrimack Mfg. Co. as a result of the new wage schedule which went into effect at the plant this morning. The operatives were not informed of the amount of the reduction until they had entered the mill and it is said that about two-thirds of the working force, being dissatisfied with the new rates, refused to work and went out on strike. It is also stated that the reductions are from 20 to 22 per cent, although no notices were posted and no statement could be obtained at the office of the company.

The attorney general formally announced that he had within the last few days authorized the appointment of a number of deputy marshals in the middle west, where disorders arising from the strike have occurred and he added that "this policy will be continued wherever justified and required."

PATTERSON WINS

Australian Captures Men's Singles—Other Events Played

WIMBLEDON, July 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Gerald J. Patterson of Australia won the final in the men's singles of the grass court tennis championships here today, defeating Randolph Lycett, Great Britain, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

In mixed doubles, Pat O'Hara Wood of Australia, and Mrs. Suzanne Lenglen of France won the final in the mixed doubles, defeating Dean Mayhew and Mrs. Mollie Bjurstedt Mallory, United States, 6-2, 6-1.

Mrs. Mallory opened the mixed doubles match in rather bad form, undoubtedly feeling very keenly the nature of her defeat by the French champion in the singles finals on Saturday. She and Mayhew were up against what is probably the finest doubles partnership in the world.

Mrs. Lenglen, as a valiant in four-some matches, is considered equal to any first class man player. Moreover, O'Hara Wood, her partner, is a brilliant net player. His French partner proved equal to the magnificent long drives of their opponents, while the Australian killed all the high lobbs in sensational fashion.

Mrs. Mallory, as the match progressed stood up well against this valiant but both the Americans were almost invariably in a defensive position on the court, striving always to pass their opponents at the net with low shots.

The Americans improved considerably in the second set and Mrs. Mallory, playing the back court made some spectacular forehand drives but the issue of the match was never really in doubt, for the Americans were clearly not in the same class as their opponents as a mixed doubles pair.

Submits Plans to Operators and Miners at Washington Gathering

Miners Would Return to Work at April 1 Wage Scale for Present

Arbitration Commission Would Arrange New Scale by August 10

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding submitted to the bituminous and anthracite operators and miners gathered here in conference a proposal that the miners return to work at the wage scale in existence when work was suspended on April 1, and continue to work on that scale until August 10, meanwhile an arbitration board being appointed to negotiate a new wage scale.

The commission, as outlined by the president, would consist of three members appointed by the United Mine Workers of America, three appointed by the operators and three representatives of the public named by the president. The operators and miners were understood to have been asked to give their response to the proposal by tonight.

The arbitration commission would be expected to have its award ready by August 10, but, unable to arrange a new scale by that date, the scale which expired in April would be continued from August 10 to April 1, 1923.

President Harding's proposals were put before the operators and miners' union officials in the form of a letter and both sides in the bituminous industry left the White House to consider them at separate meetings. The

OIL COKE ON WAY TO LOWELL

May Prove Acceptable Substitute for Stove Coal, Which is Scarce and High

Not Much Anthracite Fuel Expected in City Before Next September

Horne Co. Lays Off Men and Has Only Three Trucks in Service

Believing that the anthracite coal problem is serious enough to warrant precautionary measures, one of the city's largest coal companies has on the way to Lowell a car of oil coke, a new type of fuel, guaranteed to produce not more than five pounds of ashes out of five tons.

It is a by-product of the oil refining process and is being produced at the present time in an effort to find an acceptable substitute for anthracite coal, should the miners' strike be prolonged to a time when deliveries of coal for next winter's consumption will be a matter of grave doubt.

As far as can be learned this is the first car of oil coke ever sent to Lowell and while the local dealer who has ordered it does not know very much about its heating properties, he is willing to take a chance in the hope that it will come up to its guarantee.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Man Charged With Breaking and Entering is Held in $1000 Bonds

Dupont Wanted to Show Friends How Easy it Was to Break and Enter

Three Liquor Law Violators Pay $100 Fines—Patrolman Assaulted

Rudolph J. Dupont of this city, alias William Provencer of New York city, appeared before Judge Frederick A. Fisher in district court today, charged with breaking and entering in the night time and attempted larceny.

The place at which the break was made is a gown shop in the Strand building, and the proprietor, Albert O'Malley, appeared for the prosecution, along with Patrolman John Clark, who made the arrest.

According to the officer's testimony, he saw Dupont break the glass and reached the store in time to meet him coming out. He said his name was William Provencer, and his address New York city, but the police records showed his correct name to be Rudolph J. Dupont of Lowell. He had broken the window to show his friends, waiting across the street, that he could enter and leave the store without interference. The officer found a desk in the store rifled, and a window opened at the rear, through

Many Happy Children Greet Opening of Summer Playgrounds Here

PLAYING BASKETBALL ON SOUTH COMMON

With perfect weather heading the program, the thirteen playgrounds of Lowell opened their summer season this morning. Young America was out in full strength to take advantage of the opportunity to get into a game of baseball or play volleyball while the game was sure to continue without interruption. All the playgrounds reported a fine attendance and park department officials were of the opinion that this season would be the best yet.

Many new forms of amusement have been planned, such as hiking clubs, circulating libraries, swimming teams, tennis teams and track teams for the girls.

At times the older boys have usurped the grounds entirely and the little tots have been crowded out, so the park department decided to limit the ages of the children who would be eligible to enjoy these privileges. They have set the age limit at fifteen.

Early this morning, Assistant Supervisor Arthur C. Sullivan was kept busy going from playground to playground, distributing equipment for both the boys and the girls. As this was the opening day, some of the paraphernalia was not on hand, but will be supplied within a day or two. The playgrounds open at 9 o'clock and are in session till 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Radiographs

Alternating Current Rectifier Needed To Charge Vacuum Tube Battery

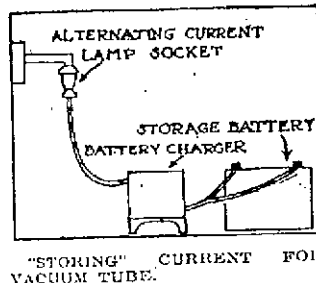

By PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
Charge your own radio set storage battery and save money.

To most amateurs this problem of caring for the storage battery seems more formidable than it really is.

Common practice has decreed the use of an alternating current supply for power and light purposes. This type of current is not continuous. It flows in one direction, dies out, reverses itself and then flows in the opposite direction. In the modern commercial system these reversals usually occur from 25 to 60 times a second.

There is no ready method whereby the vacuum tube of the radio set may depend directly upon the commercial alternating current lighting system for its supply. The changes in current direction take place at a rate of speed which makes an audible tone.

These effects are of such intensity as to completely drown out even the strongest incoming radio signals. Eventually, suitable appliances will be devised to make this alternating current available for use in the tube detector. But they haven't been developed yet.

Filters

Vacuum tubes may be supplied now with some success from lighting systems using "direct" or continuous current. Such systems are usually used in large buildings, hotels, and on board ship.

But to use even this source of current requires a "filtering" in order that any irregularities in its character—any minute ripples and fallings—may be smoothed out before the current is ready for consumption by the tube.

These filters are rather cumbersome and have not yet become popular.

Today, standard practice calls for the use of a storage battery or "accumulator." Most persons are familiar with this device because there is one on every modern automobile. And most users of the storage cells depend upon their garage men for recharging and conditioning them. That is expensive and often inconvenient.

Recharging

To recharge one's own radio battery is a comparatively simple matter.

There are several economical "rectifiers" on the market. To the consistent user of the vacuum tube outfit, the device will soon pay for itself.

To recharge the battery it is only necessary to get one of these, connect it to a light socket, turn on the current, and attach a pair of "clips" to the battery.

Prices of battery chargers suitable for home use range from about $12 to $18.

Until more convenient methods for vacuum tube supply are perfected, the use of such rectifiers will prove most economical.

Now Baby's Sure There Are Fairies— They Speak to Her By Radio

In former days children had to believe all their parents told them about fairies and such. There was no other way of learning the truth about these wonder-workers.

Nowadays, however, the fairies themselves can be introduced to the children by radio!

One of the fairies talking to the young radio fans each evening is (this is confidential to parents only) Miss Anne Heywood. She is shown in the picture dressed up as the Health Fairy reciting her regular evening bedtime story before the broadcasting microphone.

And while the Health Fairy speaks, baby has also possession of the ear phones. One of those who listen in her bedtime stories is Baby Kolster, daughter of Charles C. Kolster, radio inspector for the first naval district. No sophisticated youngster can tell her there are no fairies.

She knows!

READY FOR INSPECTION

Alterations Completed—M. Steinert & Sons Salesrooms Open Tomorrow

All is in readiness for the opening tomorrow of the extensively remodelled showrooms of M. Steinert & Sons, 130 Merrimack street. For the past few weeks workmen, painters, etc., have been busily engaged in the complete remodelling of the Steinert store, inside and out. The entire front has been changed, large attractive show windows commanding attention, with the entrance to the left, from the sidewalk. On entering, to the right, may be found the record department.

There records are neatly and conveniently arranged so as to facilitate handling, thus assuring the customer of excellent service. The Victrola department, located on the street floor, contains six sound-proof booths where one may sit and listen to the records before purchasing. Also, a booth for hearing player piano and Duo-Art records is at the customer's disposal. Something decidedly new in this section, is the spacious recital room, in colonial style, the finish throughout being in two-tone ivory with French glass doors, making an admirable setting for the musical events which the Steinert company are planning. This room is located downstairs, easily reached, and is found to create more than passing interest and favorable comment. Here, one may listen to the artists on the electric Duo-Art and player pianos and also appreciate the exceptional qualities found in the upright and grand pianos. In passing, we may add that the following high grade pianos may be found here: Steinway, Steinert, Swift, Woodbury, Curtis, Berkshire, and the pianos and Duo-Arts manufactured by the Aeolian Co. The salon is so arranged that it can be divided into two rooms, so that private demonstrations may be given. The tasteful new arrangement is very attractive and to celebrate the opening tomorrow, a special Duo-Art record will be given featuring Miss Vernon Balcom, soprano of Boston, and a delightful program chosen from the musical classics. The Duo-Art will reproduce the playing of the great pianists with life-like faithfulness. This instrument is considered by musicians to be the most perfect reproduction in the annals of music, being to piano music what the printing press was to literature.

Y.W.I.A. OUTING

The first annual outing of the Y.W.I.A. was held at Lakeview park recently and was largely attended. The winners of the various sporting events were as follows: Swimming, Marie Sokolam, first; Mildred Frank, second. Sack race, Charlotte Friedman, first; Dinahman and Bertha Levine, three-legged race, Ida Kleggerman and Rose Gregorinan; relay race, Anna Cobb; potato race, Gertrude Berker, Mildred Frank and Jessie Finberg. In addition to these sporting events there were motor boating, rowing and swimming and in the evening general dancing was enjoyed. The affair was in charge of Mrs. Julius Negman, director of the Girls' club, assisted by Sarah Shapiro, president of the Senior Y.W.I.A. and Miss Mildred Cantor.

WILL SAIL ACROSS OCEAN FRIDAY

CHICAGO, July 10.—Harold F. McCormick, his daughter, Mathilde, and his son, Fowler, will leave New York for Europe Friday.

Fowler McCormick has been in New York several days, having left Chicago last Thursday. Miss McCormick on her way east will visit her grandfather, John D. Rockefeller. It is said she will make one more attempt to win his consent to her marriage to Max Oser, middle-aged horseman, whose advent as the fiancé of the 17-year-old heiress caused such a stir in society on both sides of the Atlantic.

Whether she wins Mr. Rockefeller's consent or not it is generally believed she will make no attempt—she intends to go through with the marriage—to wed Oser, at least until she attains her majority next April. This is almost assured through an agreement made between Harold McCormick and his former wife, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick. The probate court recently, when Mr. McCormick was appointed Mathilde's guardian on her own petition.

It is understood he will go first to London and attend the much postponed wedding of Miss Mary Landon Baker and Alister McCormick if it is held later. It is stated, he will go to Paris for a period, possibly with Mathilde to Switzerland.

Film Bunk Easier to Swallow When Sugar-Coated

COLLEEN MOORE, SHE'S THE FETCHING STAR OF "THE WALL FLOWER"

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, July 10.—The movie producers are encasing their buns in capsules so it can be the easier swallowed. That, like candy, is a gelatine jacket.

Thus "The Dust Flower" opens by informing you you'll have to strain your credulity a bit if you're to enjoy the picture.

It's one of those Cinderella themes, you know. East Side girl's stepfather buys a whip to beat her with because she won't take a job selling cigars in a cafe.

She does a P. M. Henry "Glimpse Liberty" or "Glimpse Death." She starts to jump into a Central Park pond and a Fifth Avenue millionaire saves her in time and marries her on the spot. His best girl had just thrown his marquis diamond at him.

The fifth avenue slipper pinches Cinderella's foot a bit, but the butler shows her how to wear it in comfort and so she hangs around for the happy ending.

This is the same brand of bunk that was handed out in "Star Dust" and "The Top of New York" and "Nancy From Nowhere" and countless other films. But it is handled with a sense of humor in "The Dust Flower" and makes it endurable.

HELENE CHADWICK, SHE'S SCINTILLATES IN "THE DUST FLOWER"

"The Dust Flower" is also graced with the engaging presence of Helene Chadwick who has become one of the best actresses of the day. Any film in which she takes part could not be a total loss.

One wonders how Basil King, author of so profound a philosophy as "Earthbound" could come to waste his talents upon so shallow a theme as that of "The Dust Flower."

Other recent films that have coated their luck are "The Dictator" and "White Satan Sleeps." In "The Dictator" Wally Field starts a knife duel with a bigger man where you can see him, but he finishes it outside the scope of the camera. A similar situation was similarly treated in "The Champion." Wally knocked the big fellow beyond the range of the camera and the remains were carried in on a stretcher.

In "White Satan Sleeps" Jack Holt engages in a fight with a bigger man. Jack is knocked out the door twice. On the third trial he beats the bigger man.

The old way was to show all screen heroes as invincible men, never worsted by an adversary.

The power of suggestion, a sense of humor and admission of human limitations are doing much to lift photoplays from the level of fairy stories to that of good fiction.

Colleen Moore has another opportunity in "The Wall Flower" to show an actress need not be dressed like a peacock on Easter morning to do effective work. For the screen, Colleen Moore occupies a high place in the cinema heavens through her sheer ability to act.

"The Wall Flower" also gives Rupert Hughes another opportunity to demonstrate he is master of epigrammatic wit. For instance, "White that which whips you." And, "A palace in the sunshine isn't as beautiful as a cottage at night with a lamp in the window."

However, Hughes expounds a fallacy. He pictures a mother who has special ambitions for her daughter and who at the same time impresses upon the daughter that she is not beautiful or graceful.

Show us a mother anxious for her daughter to "marry well" who would admit to anyone that her daughter was an ugly duckling!

SOLDIERS IN CAMP AT HANOVER FARM

HANOVER, July 10.—The 101st engineers, M. N. G., spent the first of their 15 days' tour in camp today at Hanover farm, the estate of Col. John T. Osborne, near Hanover Forge Corners. During the day, several hundred visitors were attracted to the camp. In the afternoon, there was a band concert by the engineers followed by a guard mount and dress parade.

The outfit of about 800 men arrived yesterday by special train from Boston, and included headquarters and several companies, A and B companies of Somerville, C company of Cambridge, D company of Lynn, E company of Medford, and F company of Stoneham. The transport and motor corps came in automobile trucks. The troops are under command of Col. Osborne, with Capt. William J. Borpette as adjutant. Maj. Cunningham, Capt. Levy and Lieut. Miller of the corps of engineers of the regular army, are detached for service as instruction officers for the tour of duty. Daily routine work begins today, including instruction from 7 to 12 and from 1 to 2 in engineering and infantry tactics.

ROCKEFELLER PARTY IN BLIZZARD

BOZEMAN, Mont., July 10. (By Associated Press.)—With their faces bronzed and almost blistered from their experiences in facing the biting winds of the blizzard that Saturday swept over the mountain peaks of Yellowstone National park, Mrs. Percy Rockefeller and the party that accompanied her today told of their experiences. They arrived in Bozeman last night.

"It was the most thrilling experience and one of the most delightful too, that I have ever known," said Mrs. Rockefeller to the Associated Press.

"We were not lost, as had been reported first, but we were caught in a fierce snowstorm that raged for nearly two hours on the summit of Mount Washburn."

"When we left Yellowstone Canyon, in a big touring car the sun was shining. I want to express my gratitude to C. L. Fuller, our chauffeur, who drove the car, for he showed pluck and perseverance."

"The car was open without side curtains and as we neared the top of Mt. Washburn, the snow began to fall and the wind began to blow a gale. We kept right on to the top over 10,000 feet above the sea level."

Wind Biting Cold.

"By the time we reached the top the wind was biting cold, while the snow fell in a blinding sheet. We took refuge in a log cabin and started a roaring fire."

"Our first concern was to get our chauffeur warmed up. He had failed to bring his overcoat and gloves and he had remained steadily at his post driving the car while we were sheltered by our wraps."

"In the cabin as snow piled up outside and the wind increased in fury, we wondered whether we were going to be marooned there. There was a little feeling of anxiety. None of us said anything about it, however."

"After about two hours of heavy snowfall, the winds died down and the clouds rolled away, so we started back. It seemed odd to be caught in such a cold snow storm in July, but we really enjoyed every minute of it."

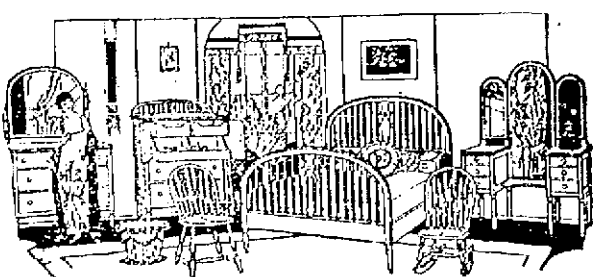

"HELLO BILLS" GATHER AT ATLANTIC CITY

More than 10,000 delegates representing all sections of the country, already have registered and grand officers predicted that at least 50,000 will be here to take part in the street parade on Thursday, the concluding feature of the convention.

A delegation of about 50 members of congress, headed by "Uncle Joe" Cannon, is expected during the week. Secretary of the Navy, Theodore Roosevelt, a member of the Freepoint lodge, is on the program for an address Thursday.

CAVING FOR 'SHINE CAUSED HIS ARREST

CHICAGO, July 10.—William A. Day, Bedford, Ind., for 20 years a petty officer in the United States navy was arrested yesterday as a deserter and embezzler of the $1900 mess funds of the U.S.S. Mississippi, which he deserted at San Pedro, Cal., Dec. 1, last year.

Day is six feet one inch tall, a handsome figure of a man, 39 years old and appears ten years younger. At the detective bureau he admitted obtaining $10,000 in various amounts from friends and relatives of men and officers of the Mississippi and other ships since his desertion. A craving for "moonshine" he declared led to his irregularities.

Among his victims was his own mother. He admitted having wired her under the name of an officer of the Mississippi that he was dead; thereby securing $500 for his funeral expenses.

At the present time there is not enough anthracite coal in Lowell to shake a stick at and none is expected in any great quantity until next fall. It depends entirely upon a settlement of the miners' strike. An isolated car may roll in now and then but only periodically and it will cost so much to get it here that the price to the consumer will be considerably more than the present quotation of $16.50 per ton.

Herbert W. Horne of the Horne Coal company said today that he has not received one pound of anthracite coal

MILL HAZARDS AND HOW TO AVOID THEM

Issued by the
Massachusetts Safety Council

BY FRANK E. MORRIS
Safety Engineer

A slender, tired looking young woman approached the window of the industrial accident board in the city house recently and asked anxiously, "Is my compensation check here?"

The clerk at the desk consulted a record book and found that her money had been mailed to her that very morning. "It is probably in your mail box now, Mrs. Hansen," he replied.

"Well, but that's a long way from here, and I wanted to get some things for the children, and I don't know when I can get someone to stay with them again," she replied, and as she stood there looking wistfully out of the window, I could imagine her saying for the hundredth time, "Jim Hansen, why weren't you more careful?"

Here's the story as it was told to me. Jim had been warned many times by his boss in the mill that he should never allow the machines when it was in motion, but Jim was a chance-taker. He was one of those quick and strong fellows who had never been seriously injured while at work, and he had a notion that he never would be. He had been often reminded that one out of every 25 workers in Massachusetts is seriously injured every year, but that didn't stir him. Jim had the most dangerous job in his department, where 20 men worked; and yet he figured that he possessed a kind of a charm against accidents and he continued to take unnecessary chances.

Oiling Machine in Motion

One day his foreman saw him oiling a machine that was not shut down and he warned him again about his carelessness and he told him that he would fire him the next time. For a week or two Jim tried hard for the sake of his family, but before carelessness became a habit with him he slipped back into his old ways and the time came when Jim was caught on a moving machine that he had no business to be near, and he was so badly hurt that he died on the following day.

Jim's death was but one of 274 fatalities in Massachusetts last year, some of which, of course, were due largely to the inherent risks of the industry, but most of them might have been averted had the worker used more care.

There was a time, and it was not so very long ago either, when Jim's widow would not have received a dollar of benefit for his death unless the employer contributed it out of charity, or unless the widow fought her case through the courts, but all of that has been changed by the adoption of the workmen's compensation act, which specifies certain money benefits to be paid for loss of one joint of a finger, a correspondingly increasing sum for the loss of two joints, and so on up the scale that determines, as accurately, as may be, the relative value of fingers, hand, arm, toe, foot, leg, eye, etc.

In such a case as Jim Hansen's, however, the amount of the payment as compensation is determined by whether any persons were dependent on him at the time of his death and these death benefits are also paid in regular installments by the insurance company.

There are certain cases, like this particular one where it is very desirable to have a part or all of the money paid in a lump sum. The insurance company had arranged to pay Mrs. Hansen's compensation in one sum to the industrial accident board, so that they not only enabled her to pay off the mortgage on her little home, but they increased her weekly allowance so that she could better provide for the children.

Of course the industrial accident board looks forward to the time when the oldest boy will be able to go to work so as to help support his mother and her compensation money is carefully conserved so as to spread over the coming years to her best advantage.

But a money settlement cannot take the place of a missing parent in the home. Nothing else can measure up to the value of the father's advice and guidance as the children are growing up, and nothing gives a mother more comfort than the feeling that her husband will support them as they go through their school days to manhood and womanhood.

Careless Man's Wife Almost a Widow

There is a common saying that "the wife of a careless man is almost a widow," and we can only guess at the misery and the trials of a woman who has had the entire responsibility for a family thrust upon her. We can easily see how her children are handicapped when the bread-winner of the home is removed; and yet how many of us fathers persist in our careless ways! One worker in every 4000 was killed while at work in Massachusetts last year, and none of us has definite assurance that he won't be the next victim unless we take care.

Isn't the careful rigger, working twenty stories above the street, safer than the thoughtless man crossing the street below him? The latter was fewer than a half dozen riggers killed in Massachusetts last year, while automobiles claimed a total of 541. Over 200 of these were men over 20 years of age, and in many cases the widow was left penniless because, of course, the compensation act applies only to men injured while at their work.

In an orphan's home where live 217 children, fifteen of them are there because of an accident that happened to one or both parents.

For the sake of those dependent on us let's be more careful on the street, in the shop, and in our homes. It does not pay to take chances. Let each father who reads this story

TIME to watch the health of the most carefully is when she is entering young womanhood. Much depends upon the proper functioning of the organs of elimination. Let no false modesty interfere with the least check of the system of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

tion act, which specifies certain money benefits to be paid for loss of one joint of a finger, a correspondingly increasing sum for the loss of two joints, and so on up the scale that determines, as accurately, as may be, the relative value of fingers, hand, arm, toe, foot, leg, eye, etc.

In such a case as Jim Hansen's, however, the amount of the payment as compensation is determined by whether any persons were dependent on him at the time of his death and these death benefits are also paid in regular installments by the insurance company.

There are certain cases, like this particular one where it is very desirable to have a part or all of the money paid in a lump sum. The insurance company had arranged to pay Mrs. Hansen's compensation in one sum to the industrial accident board, so that they not only enabled her to pay off the mortgage on her little home, but they increased her weekly allowance so that she could better provide for the children.

Of course the industrial accident board looks forward to the time when the oldest boy will be able to go to work so as to help support his mother and her compensation money is carefully conserved so as to spread over the coming years to her best advantage.

Nothing is so vital to the health and physical and mental well-being of a child as the food it eats! Don't neglect it! Robust children are the result of proper nourishment! Many foods that fill American tables today can never produce a strong, rugged race because life-sustaining elements have been destroyed.

In Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing whole-wheat flavor for the first time in food history—you have the most perfectly balanced health food ever made! KRUMBLES contain every food element the body demands! KRUMBLES build strong, rugged bodies through making red blood and bone and tissue!

Many Well Known Local Men Take Offices in Remodeled Appleton Bank Building

The reconstructed Appleton Bank building in Central street now stands as one of the city's most modern and best appointed and equipped office buildings.

For several months the work of remodeling was carried on with the greatest of care, so as to allow the daily work of the bank and the Harrison store to continue without interruption.

That this was accomplished was due in no small measure to the engineering ability of the R. E. Runels Construction Co., that had the general contract. Ralph E. Runels and Chester W. Runels are the firm members and each has an engineering degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. While their business is fairly new in the city, they have made rapid strides and already have a number of splendid jobs to their credit.

It was deemed advisable to lay a new roof on the building and Douglas and Co. was selected to do the work. The task of installing appropriate electrical fixtures was not an easy one. They were furnished by the L. A. Derby Co. of Middle street, and the new wiring also was done by this company. A thoroughly modern equipment has been installed, which includes the latest type of meter arrangement. All wires have been carefully insulated and hidden from view and the artificial lighting of the building is considered one of its very best features.

Hardware, carefully selected so that it would harmonize with the interior finish, was furnished by the Adams Hardware Co.

The building has been equipped with adequate elevator service, both for passengers and freight. They were installed by the Otis Elevator Co. and are smooth running cars that work with the minimum amount of effort.

The painting and interior decorating throughout the building was done by E. C. Pearson, whose reputation for good work is unquestioned. The walls have been tinted in buff and this shade accentuates the great amount of natural light that enters the building.

In order that even more light might be secured for offices on the fourth floor, skylights were installed by the Knowlton & Newton Co. This firm also furnished the ventilators and did the work of tinning of all doors. All plastering was done by Austin Gallery and the plumbing work was installed by John J. Mullaney and Co. of Market street.

Occupants of the Building

Long before the building was ready for occupancy, a number of well established firms had announced their intention of moving their offices there. At present, most of the available space has been leased and the tenants include many familiar names.

The plate glass arcade on the second floor is considered one of the finest developments in the city. Each week, the photographer, of Boston, has a studio there, and H. Zeller, furrier, has taken over a considerable amount of store space.

Facing the elevator on the third floor is the entering door of the office of Murphy & Corcoran, real estate and insurance, a strategic location for an office and one that has the advantage of the bright sun of the south and east sides. This is room 301.

The entire third floor wing on the southeast corner is occupied by the general offices of the Talbot Dyewood and Chemical Co., whose Middle street store required the space until recently used by the company offices. This suite is quiet, cheerful and airy. Treasurer Harry P. Knapp and his office force have moved in and are in direct contact with the Middle street store by private wire. The Talbot suite includes rooms 305, 306, 307 and 308.

The three room suite, 309, 310 and 311, on the northeast corner of this floor, is to be occupied by W. J. Rodgers, chiropractor, who also has offices in Lawrence.

The well equipped and most attractive suite which includes 315, 316 and 317, two rather large rooms and one lesser room, is occupied by Dr. Richard J. McCuskey, physician and surgeon, who had been for a number of years at 40 Middlesex street. The north light coming in through Warren street is ideal for medical offices.

Next in line on this corridor is Dr. M. H. Hyman, physician, who is establishing himself here after a period of service as house physician at the Lowell General hospital.

Joseph F. Donohoe, who for years has had a real estate office in the Hildreth building, is preparing to occupy rooms 320 and 321 for his real estate and insurance business. All the suites along this corridor consist of a waiting room and a large outside room.

The corner room, number 322, one of the brightest in the building, has been rented by McFadden and Breen, well known real estate men with insurance business as part of their line. The next room, fronting wholly on Central street, is occupied by Cantor, Ryan and Co., who move downtown from Thorndike street to accommodate their activities. Their business is insurance of all kinds.

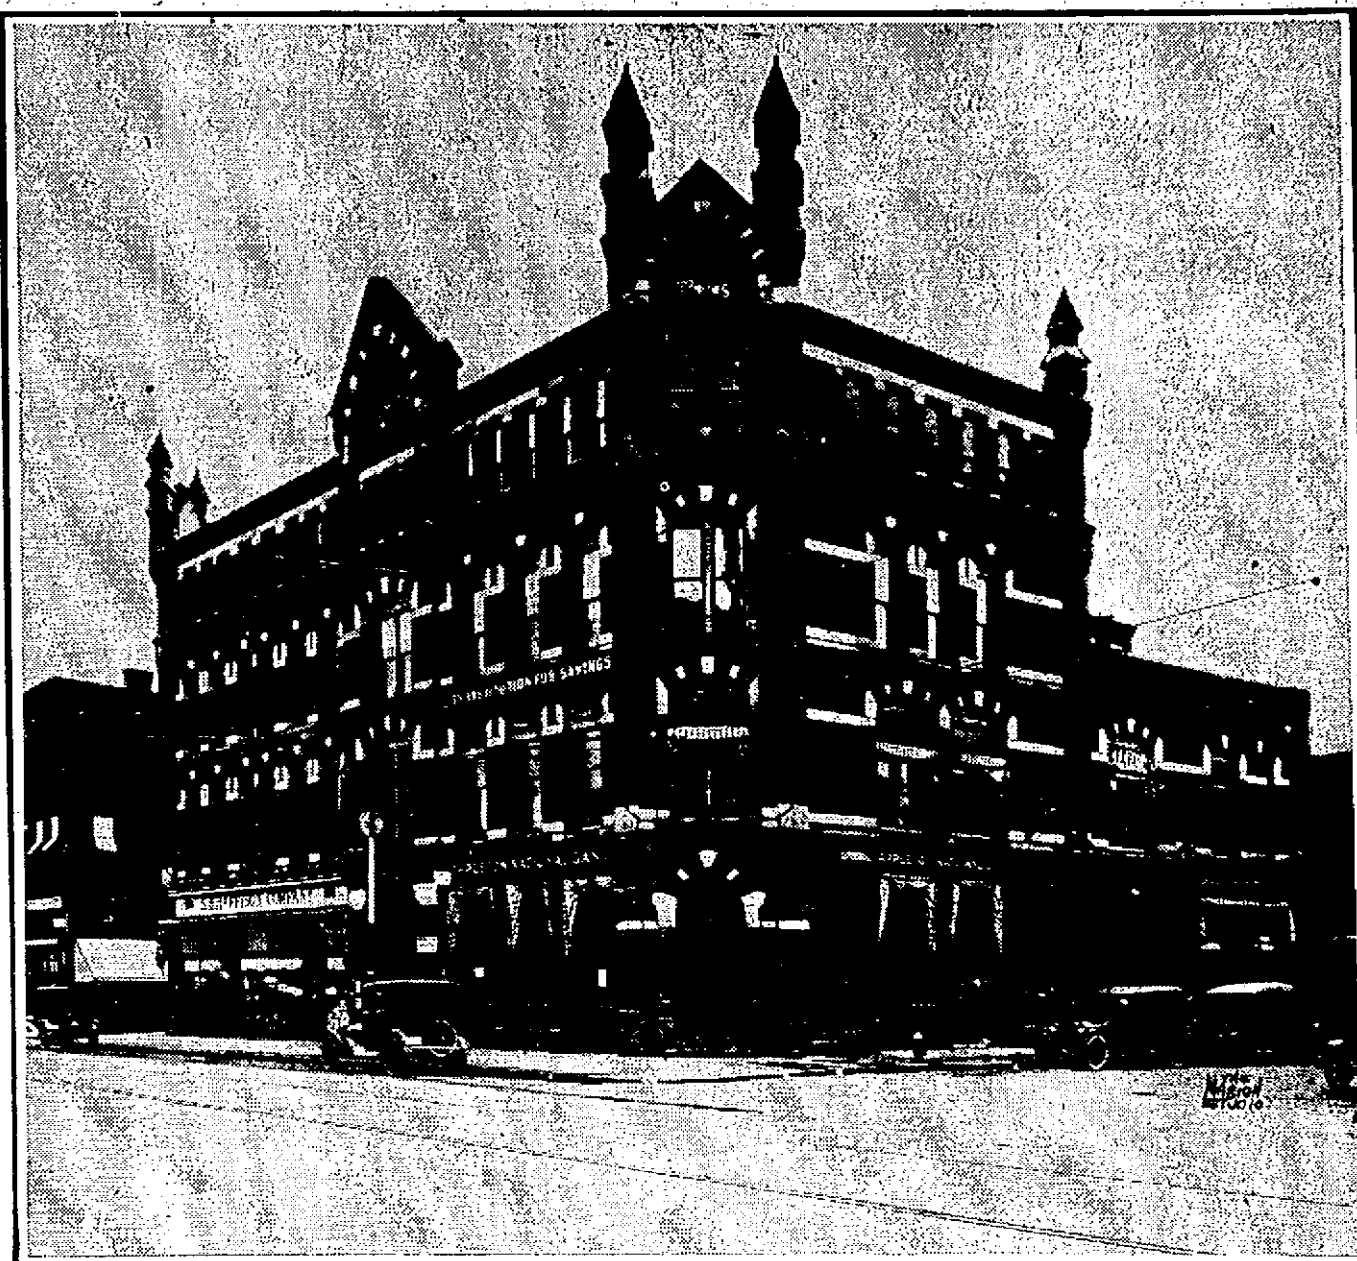

The next room, which adjoins the elevator and consists of a double room carrying the number 324 and which has four large Central street windows, is now occupied by Lane & Wood, for real estate and insurance.

In the southeast wing is the three-room suite occupied by Thomas G. Robbins, attorney; John S. A. Simpson, contractor, and William P. Boyle, constable. For years these three were associated together in offices in the Hildreth building.

Also on the third floor, occupying rooms 331-332, is George Greenberg, another former Hildreth building occupant, who carries on a real estate and insurance business.

The law firm of Kerwin & Kelly, J. J. Kerwin and J. C. Kelly occupies a large suite on the fourth floor. Associated with them are three other well known attorneys, J. J. O'Sullivan, J. Henry Gilbride and J. J. Flaherty.

Duty of All to Notify Authorities

BOSTON, July 10.—Mgr. Arthur T. Connelly, rector of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Jamaica Plain, speaking at one of the masses yesterday, declared that it is the duty of every law-abiding citizen to notify the proper authorities of violations of the prohibition law. He declared further that he thought the time would come when light wines and beers would be permitted, but until that was allowed by the sanction of the law people should abide by the laws on the statute books and help the authorities in their enforcement. During the course of his sermon, Mgr. Connelly said that prohibition had been put over by a crowd of hypocrites and that its results are disgusting. "I have heard stories," said he, "of people who had lived in houses for years and who paid their rent punctually, but who vacated because the tenant in the flat above or below them manufactured 'bootch. I don't think the authorities knew it, but they should have been informed." Monsignor Connelly intimated that boys of 15 and 16 years of age had been seen to enter places at various times of the day, and that when they emerged they were either half drunk or drunk. "These facts should be presented to the landlord," said he, "and if the conditions are not remedied recourse should be had to the legal authorities, where results can be obtained."

aud, who went like a house on fire, ending only two hits and striding to the plate for the third time. The damage was done, however, and Chalmers lost the game, 12-3.

Chalmers seems to be a hard hitter. He hit home runs 12 times in his perfect bull, and his own team puffed three men on in the 12th, not a home run was pushed over the part, and Chalmers won on a walk.

Chalmers played Sunday afternoon at Groton and was intense rivalry between him and Chalmers.

For Chalmers, Berg, the lead-off man, cracked a double and scored on Scull's sacrifice, and a single by McBride made it a scoring here and Groton did nothing.

Second, the bananas were filled, when Greenwood, Demaris, and F. Gre-on the South common by pulling the Broadways closer to the cellar. Although the score was close, 1 to 0, was quite a triumph for the mill boys starting in as they did in mid-sepson and facing the best baseball organizations in the city. They have bea game crew, and the certainty that they must hit their stride soon was realized Saturday.

Both teams were strong in the pitching and fielding departments, but, weak in hitting and slow on the bases. For the pitchers, Peterson gave an unusuexhibition in strutting out ten of the Broadway huckles, generally at times when the crowd was small. He never wanted pitched a good brand of ball, but John Ganley outgassed him in the sixth and all his work counted for nothing.

The sixth inning saw the only score of the game. Carroll, shut up, grounded out. Orlie, on first, was hit by a trouble-breeder at inopportune time, drove a hot one down the third base line. Then came Ganley, who beat the ball to the outfield, but he was having struck out and popped to first. Measuring the first ball pitched, with Allen traveling toward second at full speed, he threw the right hand at the two-bagger, scorching it with the most prolific place hit seen on the commons in years. The Broadway fielders were thinking him for his usual drive, rich and hot, and into were the last thing in their minds.

The only time at which the Bronx ways really threatened was in the ninth. O'Hare took first on Peterson's single free pass. He advanced to the on the pitcher's poor throw to nail him at second, where he had rested when Riley dropped Gath's third strike and was compelled to throw to first to complete the play. Glendon drove a fly to F. H. who made a perfect throw to the plate, nailing O'Hare at the plate and completing one of the prettiest double plays of the season. The

YANKEES DEFEAT LISBONS

RUFF MEETS LYNCH
NEW YORK, July 10.--Johnny Ruff

will defend his bantamweight title tonight, in a 15 round contest with Joe Lynch, at the New York Velodrome. The champion, who also holds the flyweight belt, is expected to weigh in around the 113 pound mark, while Lynch will be the scales close the plant though the Dutton street gate. The extra watchmen were still on the job, but they had practically nothing to do, for there was no demonstration of any kind. Often times the men gathered in groups in the street, but when told to keep moving, they obeyed orders.

At 10 o'clock several of the strikers gathered at Trades & Labor hall in Central street and held a meeting. They were addressed by John Hanley, president of the Lowell Textile council, who briefly explained to them how they could join the various unions of the U.T.W. of A. He told them to think the matter over twice before joining the order. "I don't want you to come out of the mill," he said, "with your hats in the air and a couple of days later return to your work. If you are determined to strike and carry the fight to a finish, then join us. If not, you had better remain as you are."

Mr. Hanley later announced that a big mass meeting of the strikers of the Merrimack Mfg. Co. will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in Trades & Labor hall, Central street and he said he hoped all would be present.

When asked for a statement concerning the number of men and women out on strike and the wage reduction at the Merrimack, Mr. Hanley said he was not in a position to make any official statement. "As soon as the reduction in the various departments has been figured out," he said, "and as soon as we know the exact number of strikers, then we will give a statement for publication. When we do make a statement it will be official."

Some of the strikers claim that only 300 operatives have been employed at the Merrimack during the past several months, and they say that two-thirds of them went out on strike this morning. On the other hand Agent Wadleigh stated last week that about 30 per cent. of the employees were employed, and inasmuch as the normal force of the mill is about 2900, the number of employees employed at the mill before the shut-down, according to Mr. Wadleigh's statement would be over 800.

It was stated at the mill gate that only a couple of loomfixers refused to accept the cut and walked out, but this was denied by Mr. Hanley, who stated that there are only a few loomfixers employed at the mill. He said they are all out and the men who are now on the loomfixing jobs are the second and third hands. The loomfixers will hold their regular meeting in their hall, City Hall avenue this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

SUMMER CAMP AT ISOLATION HOSPITAL

If present plans materialize, the summer camp to be conducted by the department of school hygiene, under the general direction of the health board for children of elementary school age, will open on Wednesday of this week.

Dr. Francis A. Flanagan, hygiene director, said today that practically all the work necessary to put the camp in shape for occupancy has been completed and he hopes to open on the day mentioned.

Already he has applications to attend the camp for a period of six weeks from 40 boys and an unnumbered number of girls. The camp will accommodate just 100. All of the children who have applied have been recommended by department nurses and they range in age from 6 to 15 years.

The camp is ideally situated on high land in the rear of the isolation hospital and is just on the edge of a line of pine grove. During the summer department will stay at the camp to look after the children and Dr. Flanagan will be in direct charge.

B. & M. Car Shop Strike

Freight service were normal. Men continue to apply for work; about 250 employees have been added since the last report.

The press committee of the strikers stated this morning that they have 40 pickets constantly on the job at the Billerica shops. They are not allowed on the grounds of the company they said, but they are doing picket duty just the same. One of the members of the press committee stated that yesterday Supt. Jennings of the carshop received 23 permanent orders of selection for overseers to carry bearing. "Evidently Supt. Jennings is expecting an outbreak on our part," he said, "but he should not worry, for there will be no trouble of our making."

Many of the strikers went to Concord, N. H., yesterday afternoon to attend a mass meeting of signmen who are still employed on the road and it was stated today that the strikers succeeded in having 19 of them quit their work. It was also stated that the construction crew operating between Concord and Boston have joined the ranks of the strikers, while the plumbers employed with the maintenance of ways gang, quit work this morning.

The regular daily roll call was held by the various crafts this morning and this afternoon a mass meeting of the Federal crafts was held in the Colonial theatre, Old Yellow building, Middlesex street. Members of the executive board of the crafts are planning for a public mass meeting for next Friday night. If a large hall can be secured the meeting will be held indoors and if not it will be held on one of the commons.

Strike in Merrimack Mills

announcing the exact amount of reduction would be posted in the mill when the operatives returned to work on Monday morning, meaning this morning. But evidently the company changed its plan and the notice that there were no notices in sight and it was stated that the notice were "posted" in the pockets of the overseers.

From employees coming out of the mill after 7:15 o'clock, the men were able to gather the following information concerning the wage cut: Bleaching department, wages reduced from 33 cents an hour to 25 cents an hour; dye house, from 40.5 to 32; weaving department, flat reduction of 20 per cent; spinning, reduction of from 25 to 22 per cent; finishing department, from $23.25 a week to $22.35; velvet finishing, 22 per cent; corduroy finish, from 22 cents an hour to 20 cents an hour; velvet weaving, from 13 cents a thousand pick to 10 cents; slacks, flat 20 per cent.

Several incidents pertaining to the manner in which the wage reduction was announced were related by some of the strikers after they had left the premises. One of the employees of the dye house said that the superintendent of the mill was in the dye house when the signal to start work was given and the strikers were told the fact that the men were not starting their machines. He inquired as to the trouble and was quickly informed that the operatives wished to know what wage they were working for. The superintendent then called a man who took out a slip from his pocket and announced the reduction. The men then gathered their belongings and left the plant. One of the Greek-speaking employees of the department stated that the superintendent requested the Greeks to remain on the job, offering them their breakfast, dinner and supper at the expense of the company, but the offer was refused.

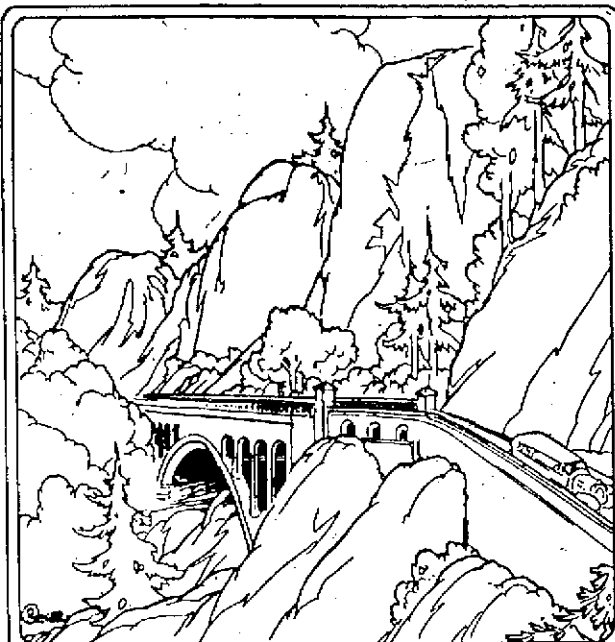

In some other departments, it is said the overseers had the new wage schedule in their pockets and it was only at the request of the operatives that they were shown. Later in the forenoon price lists for the place workers were posted on the walls of the plant.

From 7:15 o'clock until after 6 o'clock men and women came out of anthracite operators and miners remained, however.

On the arrival of the conference at the executive offices, it was arranged that A. M. Ogden, chairman of the conference and the operators' representatives should see the president first and that the miners would be called in immediately after.

Separate meetings were to be held in the interim and the anthracite operators and miners were called to participate in the conference at the blumington representatives with the president.

Conference Adjourns

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(By the Associated Press.) The conference of bituminous coal miners and operators adjourned this morning to go directly to President Harding at the White House. Participants said they had been unable to reach an agreement.

Secretary Davis on behalf of the government, at the adjournment of the joint conference before its adjournment, a proposal that a committee of six operators and six miners be appointed to outline districts for bituminous coal areas in which negotiations could be set up between the United Mine workers and the operators, the government assuming responsibility for differences which could not be negotiated. It was evident that both sides had found the proposition unacceptable.

President Harding, it was learned from a White House visitor, has in mind a definite order of government arbitration and was prepared to devote unlimited time and effort to bringing about a method of settlement. Being in this the White House caller said the president had determined to take strong measures to bring about the mining of coal.

WASHINGTON, July 10. (By the Associated Press.)—The government prepared today to put its own plan of strike before representatives of operators and miners who reconvened in the conference held at the call of President Harding.

Preliminary meetings of officials of the miners' union and of the coal mine operators' representatives last night and Sunday, gave Secretaries Hoover and Davis direct assurance that the situation, direct assurance that insufficient compromise would result from the conference to the parties to the controversy to allow settlement. President Harding fully informed as to the exact situation within the secret meetings consequently proceeded to draft a proclamation for presentation immediately after their convening.

The two cabinet members participated in a conference with the president following its preparation, but the text formulated was held entirely confidential. There was an impression that the president would tender arbitration on some basis.

To Enforce Law and Order rail strike was reached today—the 10th since the shopmen's nation-wide walkout.

National Guardsmen were on duty in Illinois and under arms in four other states. United States marshals were in charge of law enforcement machinery at various points. The Michigan state police were prepared for duty while at other rail centers the roads relied upon federal injunctions and local authorities for protection in attempting to operate shops and maintain transportation into which increasing inroads were noted.

Shop and roundhouse strikes marked the final new of railroad ultimatum cancelling seniority and pension rights of strikers who refused to return today.

The day brought ominous forebodings of an impending crisis at many points as trouble brewed among the strikers. New acts of violence occurred at scattered points and others were feared as the situation grew tenser.

The 10th day of strike was marked by the apparent determination of both sides to stand by their positions taken at the outset. Railroads generally prepared to open their shops with what labor was available, keeping returned strikers and imported workers.

State troops patrolled the Illinois Central yards and shops at Clinton, Illinois, while at Bloomington, Ills.

preparing for a supreme test of strength. There were no reports of violence or outbreaks.

Daugherty Is Active

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Attorney General Daugherty on his return to Washington this morning after a week's absence in Ohio, immediately took up consideration of the railroad strike with Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the association of railway executives.

The attorney general sent out word to newspapers that he would have no statement to make at this time. Mr. Thom said he could discuss the purpose of his visit only with the attorney general now, but that a statement might be given out later by Mr. Daugherty.

Atty. Gen. Daugherty after a conference with Mr. Thom lasting more than an hour and a half, left the department of justice for the White House to see President Harding.

Mr. Thom remained at the department in conference with Assistant to Atty. Gen. Coff.

While the conference between the attorney general and Mr. Thom was in progress, the department received an appeal for government protection from J. E. Tausig, president of the Wabash Railway Co., who cited an attack on the road's shops at Moberly, Mo., Saturday night, during which he said strikers stopped a Kansas City-Detroit mail train, cut the air hose, threw rocks through the windows and forcibly took 18 employees from the train.

Should Not Join

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—Foremen and supervisors of mechanics who are members of the International Association of Railroad Supervisors of Mechanics, should not join the shopmen's strike unless compelled to perform work that would make them strikebreakers, W. V. O'Neill, international president, told the Associated Press today.

Mr. O'Neill telegraphed the heads of the four grand brotherhoods—engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen—to this effect today after receiving reports that foremen were to join the strike.

Troops Take Charge

PARSONS, Kas., July 10.—Adj. Gen. Charles I. Martin and 300 national guardsmen took command of the strike situation in Parsons at 1 a. m. today. Without any word to city or county officials, the troops arrived in town and were quartered in the M. K. & T. railroad's athletic field.

One of the first acts of Gen. Martin was to place a ban on all street meetings. An official order was also served on all dealers in firearms, threatening arrest for selling firearms or ammunition during the military rule.

Act on Request

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 10.—The requests of Bloomington officials for state troops have been acted upon "decisively" by Acting Gov. Sterling. Adj. Gen. Black announced at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The general said he has no authority to make public Mr. Sterling's decision.

Official reports here were to the effect that the entire 130th infantry had been ordered to Bloomington. This regiment has been mobilized since Saturday night.

Machine Gunners Leave

DANVILLE, Ill., July 10.—Company D, 130th infantry, local machine gun unit, will leave here at 9 o'clock over the Big Four railroad, under sealed orders, probably for Bloomington, or Clinton, Ill., according to one of its officers.

Slight Disorder in Hub

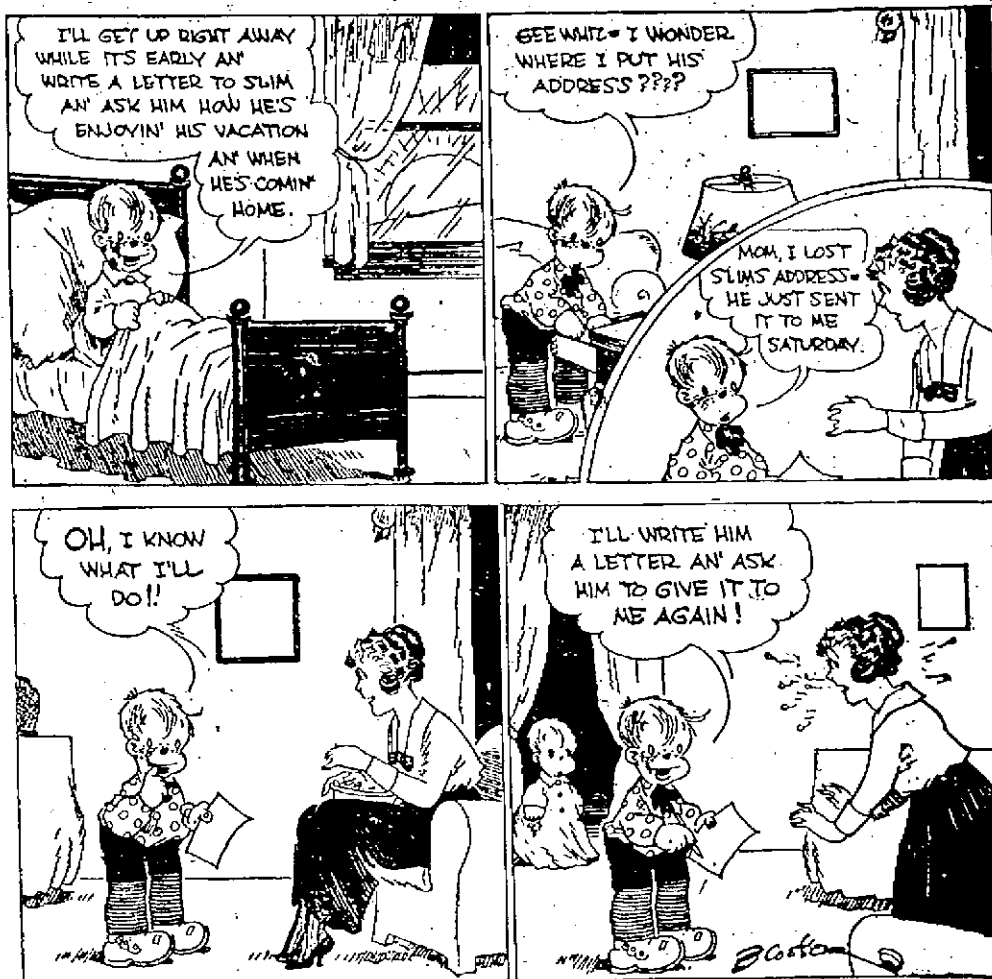

BOSTON, July 10.—The executive council of the Maintenance of Way union in New England conferred here today with G. H. Plimton, vice president of the union, to determine whether the brotherhood in this section favored continuance of negotiations with the United States railroad labor board.

The first act of violence on the part of strike sympathizers to be reported here, occurred yesterday when two men attacked William Phillips, recently hired by the New Haven road, near the Dover street yards. A patrolman who hastened to the scene arrested John Wallace on a charge of assault and battery. The other man escaped.

Men Ordered Out

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., July 10.—About 60 imported workmen of the Missouri Pacific arrived here today from Mexico, Ark., where a crowd had ordered them out of town. The workmen immediately were surrounded by striking shopmen here. Strikers said the men would be "sent north" on the first train. There was no violence.

GERMANY MAKES ANOTHER OFFER

Will Pay Remaining Cash
Debt if Granted Two-Year
Moratorium

British Press Expresses Concern for All Europe Regarding Situation

PARIS, July 10. (By the Associated Press).—A proposal providing for the payment of all the remaining cash instalments due this year, providing Germany is granted a moratorium of at least two years, was brought to Paris today by German representatives, according to unofficial information which reached the reparation commission.

German representatives were Dr. Fischer, chairman of the war debts commission and Herr Schroeder, under-secretary of the ministry of finance, who reached Paris during the afternoon. Herr Schroeder expected to call upon each member of the commission separately, outline the details of the plan and set forth reasons why Germany regards a long moratorium absolutely necessary.

After a visit to President DuBois of the reparation commission this afternoon, Herr Schroeder expected to call upon each member of the commission separately, outline the details of the plan and set forth reasons why Germany regards a long moratorium absolutely necessary.

To Meet Friday
It is not expected the proposals will be laid before a full meeting of the commission until Friday.

The members of the commission have indicated that the immediate reason for the present financial situation in Germany is the failure of Germany to put an end to the wholesale printing of paper marks and the widespread exportation of capital from the country.

In further being made clear that no adjustment of the total indemnity to what would be regarded as a reasonable figure can be made with the consent of France, until there is a definite settlement of the whole question of the inter-allied debts which would either result in conciliation or very indefinite postponement of payments.

It is explained in French quarters that France cannot presently pay her debt to the United States under the present conditions.

France, it is declared, would probably agree to a material reduction of the German indemnity if there should be such a readjustment of the inter-allied obligation, and the opinion was expressed that sooner or later this idea must be laid before the American government.

British Press Says

LONDON, July 10.—Germany's financial crisis continued to be a subject of paramount concern in the British press, which today discusses the question exhaustively, stressing the danger confronting the whole of Europe.

The British government is stated to be extremely anxious, and, according to the Daily Telegraph's diplomatic expert, a special committee of the cabinet is considering the situation, which, it is understood, comes before the full cabinet tomorrow.

STRICKEN WITH CRAMPS

Melrose Highlands Young
Man Drowned in Nuttings
Pond, Billerica, Sunday

Cornelius H. Beeler of 64 York Terrace, Melrose Highlands, was drowned in Nuttings Pond, Billerica, Sunday noon when he was stricken with cramps while swimming from a diving float to the shore, only a few yards away. A girl to whom he was engaged, sat terror-stricken in a canoe hardly a paddle-length away from him when he cried out for help and sank beneath the surface of the water. Other men were swimming nearby, but were unable to reach his side before he disappeared. His body was recovered a quarter of an hour later and although physicians worked over him for some time life was extinct.

Beeler, who was a regular week-end visitor at Camp Raklaw on Nuttings Pond, was known as a strong swimmer. A week ago he was seized with cramps while in the water and reached the shore only after a great effort, but yesterday's attack was too severe for him to overcome.

When his body was recovered Dr. E. J. Alley of Billerica and a trained nurse were on the scene and Dr. T. H. Smith was called. When the medical examiner arrived he pronounced the young man dead and ordered that his body be taken to the morgue of Underhill, William H. Saunders in this city. His mother and brother in Melrose were notified and they came to Lowell last night.

QUARTERLY COMMUNION SUNDAY FOR Y. M. C. I.

Yesterday was quarterly communion Sunday for the Young Men's Catholic Institute, and approximately three hundred members of the institute approached the altar rail at the eight o'clock mass at the Immaculate Conception church and received holy communion.

Following the church services the members returned to the Y.M.C.I. hall and enjoyed the customary exercises. During the exercises the Very Rev. Lawrence F. Tigue, O.M.I., spiritual director of the institute, gave a very forcible address to the members of the institute.

A very entertaining musical program was enjoyed with the following members as participants: Martin O'Connell, Thomas Kelly, John Black, Edward Cawley, Joseph Craven, Thos. Carlin, Frank McMartin; recitation by Martin O'Connell; remarks by Pres. Higgins, ex-Pres. Clarke, Edward Cawley, Thomas Beane, and the Very Rev. Fr. Tigue.

The drawing contest for the $5 gold piece and the silk umbrella offered by the Y.M.C.I. baseball team was completed. Francis McMartin, Jr., drew the name of Frank O'Dwyer as winner of the gold piece, and Wm. O'Keefe, Jr., drew the name of Peter Savoy as winner of the silk umbrella.

JADE SUPPLY IS FAST DIMINISHING

It is easy to understand the fascination of jade, and it is interesting to know how the world's very limited supply is obtained. Manufacturers ascertained that the demand for jade is increasing to such an extent that dealers are bidding actively for all that comes into the market. Jade is a stone that is so difficult to obtain and the demand for it is so great that the supply is fast diminishing.

The interior of China are almost unexplored. Some very fine specimens of dark green jade have recently come from Siberia from the vicinity of the Albert graphite mine near Lake Baikal.

The costliest variety of jade is emerald green jade. It is a solid color. In quality it is of a greasy and translucent lustre when polished, an aaaaa aaaa.

There is a great deal of the green and white jade but that variety does not bring so high a price. Strings of jade beads range in prices from $10 to $10,000 more according to color and quality. Through a celebrated old dealer in jade in Pekin a dinner service has recently been ordered to cost $100,000.

It seems strange that while in our thoughts we instinctively associate jade with China it has not been quarried in China for many decades. During the Chou and Han dynasties it is known to have been mined in the Shensi and Shanxi provinces. The latter furnished the most beautiful yushu (jade) in all China, a kind of white Jasper. Since the Christian era jade has been brought into China from Turkestan. Later Yunnan and Burma were added as sources of supply. The Burma mines were discovered by a Yunnan trader in the 13th century, and down through the centuries to the present day the mining concession has remained with the same tribe.

Implements of true jade have been found widely distributed in Alaska and British Columbia. A curious amulet of dark crimson jade, in the form of a whale, finely fashioned, was found in the region of Mt. Klavler; another was of black jade, adz shaped. —China Review.

TO SUPPORT STRIKERS

Presidents of Local Unions
Vote Moral and Financial Assistance to Strikers

At a meeting of the presidents of all the locals affiliated with the American Federation of Labor held in Trades & Labor hall, Central street, yesterday afternoon, it was voted to give moral and financial assistance to the employees of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. and the Bay State Cotton Corp., who went out on strike 21 weeks ago as a protest against a 10 per cent wage reduction and also to lend all assistance possible to all other mill operatives who go out on strike as a result of wage cuts.

The meeting was attended by about 100 union representatives and was presided over by Charles E. Anderson, president of the Trades and Labor council, and the speakers were Mr. Anderson and Francis Johnson of Maynard, president of the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America. Both men called for the united support of the Lowell labor movement representing every craft for the textile workers who are asked to accept wage reductions. Later, plans were formulated for the moral and financial support of the workers who are affected by strikes and the presidents of crafts present were instructed to report the doings of the meeting to their respective organizations.

At 7 o'clock last evening, a mass meeting was held on the South common with Chairman John Hanley of the strike committee as the presiding officer. The speakers were Frank H. McCarthy of Boston, an organizer for the American Federation of Labor; Francis Johnson of Maynard, president of the New England conference board of the U.T.W. of A., and John W. Bury of this city. There was a large attendance and the speakers which dealt with local textile labor conditions were listened to with great interest.

Strike on at the Merrimack Mills as Result of Wage Reduction

No Notices Posted But Strikers Say Reduction is 20 Per Cent and Over—No Statement From Company—Exact Number of Strikers Not Known at Strike Headquarters—Loomfixers to Hold Meeting

There is a strike on at the Merrimack Mfg. Co. as a result of the new wage schedule which went into effect at the plant this morning. The operatives were not informed of the amount of the reduction until they had entered the mill and it is said that about two-thirds of the working force, being dissatisfied with the new rates, refused to work and went out on strike. It is also stated that the reductions are from 20 to 22 per cent, although no notices were posted and no statement could be obtained at the office of the company. Evidently the company officials had expected a strike and had feared trouble, for when the mill gates were thrown open at 7 o'clock this morning, there were extra watchmen on the premises, including Major Noyes, the corporation detective, and every man or woman who passed through the gates, was given the once over by the officers but there was no disturbance. The announcement of a wage reduction, as it was called by the mill officials, was made jointly with that of a shut-down for a week, a week ago last Thursday. At that time, Agent Jude C. Wadleigh stated he did not know the amount of the proposed reduction. Last Friday, Agent Wadleigh informed The Sun that notices

MUST START TO REPAIR BRIDGE TOMORROW

At 2 o'clock today officers of the Engineering Service & Construction Co. were on the way from Boston to Lowell to confer with City Engineer Stephen Kearney on the matter of doing surface repairs on Central bridge. The work was scheduled to begin today, but the contracting company balked on the grounds that its financial standing with the city was not secure and it desired some assurance that it would receive money for this extra work if completed. Engineer Kearney said this noon that he was interested only in getting the bridge repaired and that if the Engineering Service & Construction Co. was not ready to begin work there tomorrow, he would see to it that some other company did the job.

Submits Plans to Operators and Miners at Washington Gathering

Miners Would Return to Work at April 1 Wage Scale for Present

Arbitration Commission Would Arrange New Scale by August 10

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(By the Associated Press) President Harding submitted to the bituminous and anthracite operators and miners gathered here in conference a proposal that the miners return to work at the wage scale in existence when work was suspended on April 1, and continue to work on that scale until August 10, meanwhile an arbitration board being appointed to negotiate a new wage scale. The commission, as outlined by the president would consist of three members appointed by the United Mine Workers of America, three appointed by the operators and five representatives of the public named by the president. The operators and miners were understood to have been asked to give their response to the proposal by tonight. The arbitration commission would be expected to have its award ready by August 10, but unable to arrange a new scale by that date, the scale which expired in April would be continued from August 10 to March 1, 1923. President Harding's proposals were put before the operators and miners' union officials in the form of a letter and both sides in the bituminous industry left the White House to consider them at separate meetings. OIL COKE ON WAY TO LOWELL

Not Much Anthracite Fuel Expected in City Before Next September

Horne Co. Lays Off Men and Has Only Three Trucks in Service

Believing that the anthracite coal problem is serious enough to warrant precautionary measures, one of the city's largest coal companies has on the way to Lowell a car of oil coke, a new type of fuel, guaranteed to produce not more than five pounds of ashes out of five tons. It is a by-product of the oil refining process and is being produced at the present time in an effort to find an acceptable substitute for anthracite coal, should the miners' strike be prolonged to a time when deliveries of coal for next winter's consumption will be a matter of grave doubt. As far as can be learned this is the first car of oil coke ever sent to Lowell and while the local dealer who has ordered it does not know very much about its heating properties, he is willing to take a chance in the hope that it will come up to its guar-

The officer found a desk in the store rifled, and a window opened at the rear, through

Many Happy Children Greet Opening of Summer Playgrounds Here

PLAYING BASKETBALL ON SOUTH COMMON

With perfect weather heading the program, the thirteen playgrounds of Lowell opened their summer season this morning. Young America was out in full strength to take advantage of the opportunity to get into a game of basketball or play volley ball. The game was sure to continue without interruption. All the playgrounds reported a fine attendance and park department officials were of the opinion that this season would be the best yet. Many new forms of amusement have been planned, such as hiking clubs, circulating libraries, swimming teams, tennis teams and track teams for the girls. At times the older boys have snatched the grounds entirely and the little tots have been crowded out, so the park department decided to limit the ages of the children who would be eligible to enjoy these privileges. They have set the age limit at fifteen.

Early this morning, Assistant Supervisor Arthur C. Sullivan was kept busy going from playground to playground, distributing equipment for both the boys and the girls. As this was the opening day, some of the paraphernalia was not on hand, but will be supplied within a day or two. The playgrounds open at 9 o'clock and are in session till 10 o'clock in the forenoon. The afternoon session

Hayes to Consider Most Important Question Relative to Volstead Act

BOSTON, July 10.—The question whether prohibition enforcement agents have been acting illegally in destroying stills, mash and moonshine without court sanction, was taken under advisement today by United States Commissioner Hayes. Daniel A. Shen, former assistant federal district attorney, as counsel for several defendants charged with manufacture of liquor asserted that by section 25 of the Volstead Act, all property seized by prohibition agents must be brought before the court for disposition. He contended that the court must give its sanction before physical property seized in raids could be destroyed. Commissioner Hayes said the question was the most important that has been raised since enforcement began. "If Shen's contention is right," he continued, "the methods must be radically changed."

THREE LOWELL CASES IN SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT TOMORROW

The city of Lowell appears in the supreme judicial court at Falmouth, Boston, tomorrow, in three distinct actions, and City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney is the official representative in all of them. In the evening, the solicitor will appear before the city council, representing the mayor, at the hearing to be given Messrs. Murphy and Leary, removed members of the public service board. The trio of cases in the high court include the Nesmith Trust fund action, seeking to compel the city to

Republican Movement Has Collapsed Everywhere With Exception of Cork

Arrest of De Valera Not Expected—Five Bridges Blown Up

LONDON, July 10. (By the Associated Press).—Latest reports from Ireland indicate that the republican movement is collapsing everywhere except in the Cork district, where it is believed important events may be expected soon.

Donon de Valera is rumored to have joined his supporters there, but various other stories as to whereabouts are in circulation, one that he is in the neighborhood of Dublin and plans to attend the funeral of Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess) there today. The supposition that the republican leader would be arrested upon his appearance in Dublin is scouted in some quarters, where it is suggested the provisional government prefers that he remain at liberty, believing his capture would be an embarrassment.

Transfer Headquarters CORK, Ireland, July 10.—The republican movement has collapsed everywhere with exception of Cork.

The strikers say that the number of men at work at the plant is now about 600, as against 1600 when the strike went into effect. The railroad management gave out the following statement today: "Yesterday, both passenger and freight trains were running on the Boston & Maine line."

Alternating Current Rectifier Needed To Charge Vacuum Tube Battery

By PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
Charge your own radio set storage battery and save money.
To most amateurs this problem of charging the storage battery seems more formidable than it really is. Common practice has decreed the use of an alternating current supply for power and light purposes. This type of current is not continuous. It flows in one direction, dies out, reverses itself and then flows in the opposite direction. In the modern commercial system these reversals usually occur from 25 to 60 times a second.
There is no ready method whereby the vacuum tube of the radio set may depend directly upon the commercial alternating current lighting system for its supply. The changes in current direction take place at a rate of speed which makes an audible tone.
These effects are of such intensity as to completely drown out even the strongest incoming radio signals. Eventually, suitable appliances will be devised to make this alternating current available for use in the tube detector. But they haven't been developed yet.

Vacuum tubes may be supplied now with some success from lighting systems using "direct" or continuous current. Such systems are usually used in large buildings, hotels, and on board ship.
But to use even this source of current requires a "filtering" in order that any irregularities in its character—any minute ripples and fallings—may be smoothed out before the current is ready for consumption by the tube.

Now Baby's Sure There Are Fairies—They Speak to Her By Radio

In former days children had to believe all their parents told them about fairies and such. There was no other way of learning the truth about these wonder-workers.
Nowadays, however, the fairies themselves can be introduced to the children by radio!
One of the fairies talking to the young radio fans each evening is (this is confidential to parents only) Miss Anne Raymond. She is shown in the picture dressed up as the Health Fairy lecturing her regular evening bedtime story before the broadcasting microphone.

And while the Health Fairy speaks, baby has sole possession of the ear phones. One of those who listen in on her bedtime stories is Baby Kolster, daughter of Charles C. Kolster, radio inspector for the first naval district. No sophisticated youngster can tell her there are no fairies.
She knows!

These filters are rather cumbersome and have not yet become popular.
Today, standard practice calls for the use of a storage battery or "accumulator." Most persons are familiar with this device because there is one on every modern automobile. And most users of the storage cells depend upon their garage men for recharging and conditioning them. That is expensive and often inconvenient.

Recharging
To recharge one's own radio battery is a comparatively simple matter.
There are several economical "rectifiers" on the market. To the constant user of the vacuum tube outfit, the device will soon pay for itself.
To recharge the battery it is only necessary to get one of these, connect it to a light socket, turn on the current, and attach a pair of "clips" to the battery.
Prices of battery chargers suitable for home use range from about $12 to $18.
Until more convenient methods for vacuum tube supply are perfected, the use of such rectifiers will prove most economical.

HELD ANNUAL OUTING
The annual outing of the Massachusetts Mohair Club Co. overseers was held last Saturday, at Hans Point. The party, including Superintendent Aveyard, left the factory at 10 o'clock in autos provided by Messrs. Aveyard, Watson, Orrell and Debus. At the beach they were met by Treasurer Houghton, Harry Biles, Mr. Mason and Mr. Melchen of the Boston office and after a dip in the breakers, all partook of an excellent dinner at the Beach house. The annual bowling match between teams captained by Fred Harrison and Brook Southam was won by Harrison's team. The high score was D. Hird, closely followed by C. Aveyard. A pleasant trip was then made along the north shore to Gloucester and the return brought the party through Newburyport and the Merrimack valley.

READY FOR INSPECTION

Alterations Completed—M. Steinert & Sons Salesrooms Open Tomorrow

All is in readiness for the opening tomorrow, of the extensively remodelled salesrooms of M. Steinert & Sons, 130 Merrimack street. For the past few weeks workmen, painters, etc., have been busily engaged in the complete remodeling of the Steinert store, inside and out. The entire front has been changed, large attractive show windows commanding attention, with the entrance to the left, from the sidewalk. On entering, to the right, where records are neatly and conveniently arranged so as to facilitate handling, thus assuring the customer of excellent service. The Victoria department, located on the street floor contains six sound-proof booths where one may sit and listen to the records before purchasing. Also, a booth for hearing player piano. Duo-Art Rolls is at the customer's disposal. Something decidedly new in this section is the spacious recital room, in colonial style, the finish throughout being in two-tone ivory with French glass doors, making an admirable setting for the musical events which the Steinert company are planning. This room is located downstairs, easily reached, and is bound to create more than passing interest and favorable comment. Here, one may listen to the artists on the electric Duo-Art and player pianos and also appreciate the exceptional qualities found in the upright and grand pianos. In passing, we may add that the following high grade pianos may be found here: Steinway, Steinert, Jewett, Woodbury, Curtis, Berkshire, and the Planolas and Duo-Arts manufactured by the Aeolian Co. The salon is so arranged that it can be divided into two rooms, so that private demonstrations may be given. The tasteful new arrangement is very attractive and to celebrate the opening tomorrow, a special Duo-Art recital will be given featuring Miss Velman Balcom, soprano of Boston, and a delightful program chosen from the musical classics. The Duo-Art will reproduce the playing of the great pianists with life-like faithfulness. This instrument is considered by musicians to be the most notable invention in the annals of music, being to piano music what the printing press was to literature.

WILL SAIL ACROSS OCEAN FRIDAY

CHICAGO, July 10.—Harold F. McCormick, his daughter, Mathilde, and his son, Fowler, will leave New York, for Europe Friday.

Fowler McCormick has been in New York several days, having left Chicago last Thursday. Miss McCormick on her way east will visit her grandfather, John D. Rockefeller. It is said she will make one more attempt to win his consent to her marriage to Max Oser, middle-aged horseman, whose advent as the fiancé of the 17-year-old heiress caused such a stir in society on both sides of the Atlantic.

Whether she wins Mr. Rockefeller's consent or not it is generally believed she will make no attempt—she intends to go through with the marriage—to wed Oser, at least until she attains her majority next April. This is almost assured through an agreement made between Harold McCormick and his former wife, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick in the probate court recently when Mr. McCormick was appointed Mathilde's guardian on her own petition.
It is understood he will go first to London and attend the much postponed wedding of Miss Mary Landon Baker and Allister McCormick if it is held. Later, it is stated, he will go to Paris for a period, and possibly with Mathilde to Switzerland.

COLLEEN MOORE, SHE'S THE PITCHING STAR OF "THE WALL FLOWER."

HELENE CHADWICK, SHE SCINTILLATES IN "THE DUST FLOWER."

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, July 10.—The movie producers now are encasing their junk in capsules so it can be easier swallowed. That, like castor oil in a gelatine jacket.

Thus "The Dust Flower" opens by informing you you'll have to strain your credulity a bit if you're to enjoy the picture.

It's one of those Cinderella themes, you know. East Side girl's stepfather buys a whip to beat her with because she won't take a job selling cigarettes in a cafe.

She does a Patrick Henry "Gimmie liberty, or gimme death!" She starts to jump into a Central Park pond and a Fifth Avenue millionaire saves her in time and marries her on the spot.

His best girl had just thrown his marquis diamond at him.

The Fifth Avenue slipper pinches Cinderella's foot a bit, but the better shows her how to wear it in comfort and so she hangs around for the happy ending.

This is the same brand of bunk that was handed out in "Star Dust" and "The Top of New York" and "Nancy From Nowhere" and countless other films. But it is handled with a sense of humor in "The Dust Flower" and makes it endurable.

"The Dust Flower" is also graced with the engaging presence of Helene Chadwick who has become one of the best actresses of the day. Any film in which she takes part could not be a total loss.

One wonders how Basil King, author of so profound a photoplay as "Earthbound" could come to waste his talents upon so shallow a theme as that of "The Dust Flower."

Other recent films that have costed their bunk are "The Dictator" and "White Satan Sleeps." In "The Dictator" Wally Reid starts a knife duel with a bigger man where you can see him, but he finishes it outside the scope of the camera. A similar situation was similarly treated in "The Champion." Wally knocked the bigger fellow beyond the range of the camera and the remains were carried in on a stretcher.

In "White Satan Sleeps" Jack Holt engages in a fight with a bigger man. Jack is knocked out the door twice. On the third trial he beats the bigger man.

The old way was to show all

screen heroes as invincible men, never worsted by an adversary. The power of suggestion, a sense of humor and admission of human limitations are doing much to lift photoplays from the level of fairy stories to that of good fiction.

Colleen Moore has another opportunity in "The Wall Flower" to show an actress need not be dressed like a peacock on Easter morning to do effective work for the screen. Colleen Moore occupies a high place in the cinema heavens through her sheer ability to act.

"The Wall Flower" also gives Rupert Hughes another opportunity to demonstrate he is master of epigrammatic sublimity. For instance, "Whip that which whips you." And, "A palace in the sunshine isn't as beautiful as a cottage at night with a lamp in the window."

However, Hughes expounds a fallacy. He pictures a mother who has social ambitions for her daughter and who at the same time impresses upon the daughter that she is not beautiful or graceful.

Show us a mother anxious for her daughter to "marry well" who would admit to anyone that her daughter was an ugly duckling!

SOLDIERS IN CAMP AT HANOVER FARM

HANOVER, July 10.—The 101st engineers, N.Y.G., spent the first of their 15 days' tour in camp today at Elmwood farm, the estate of Col. John T. Osborn, near Hanover Forge Corners. During the day, several hundred visitors were attracted to the camp. In the afternoon, there was a band concert by the engineers followed by a guard mount and dress parade.

The outfit of about 800 men arrived yesterday by special train from Boston, and included headquarters and service companies, A and B companies of Somerville, C company of Cambridge, D company of Lynn, E company of Medford, and F company of Stoneham. The transport and motor corps came in automobile trucks.

The troops are under command of Col. Osborn, with Capt. William J. Borgette as adjutant, Maj. Cunningham, Capt. Levy and Lieut. Miller of the corps of engineers of the regular army, are detached for service as instruction officers for the tour of duty. Daily routine work begins today, including instruction from 7 to 12 and from 1 to 2 in engineering and infantry tactics.

PLAN LAKE AND BEACH OUTINGS

The employees of the Peabody Shoe Co. will hold an outing at Canobie Lake next Saturday. Special cars will leave the depot at 8 a. m. Mr. LaPoint will be in charge.

The Alpha Beta club will have its annual outing next week from Saturday. The party will be made from Wiggsville square with Iversen beach as the destination. George Allen is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

On July 25, the Sunday school class of the Tewksbury Congregational church will go to Canobie Lake, returning at 5:45 in the evening.

At 11:30 this morning the ambulance was summoned to the Hines electric plant and removed Wilton Cooper of Braintree, an employee of the plant, to St. John's hospital. Cooper had his hand caught in a press, injuring one of his fingers.

ROCKEFELLER PARTY IN BLIZZARD

BOHEMAN, Mont., July 10. (By Associated Press.)—With their faces bronzed and almost blistered from their experiences in facing the biting winds of the blizzard that Saturday swept over the mountain peaks of Yellowstone National park, Mrs. Percy Rockefeller and the party that accompanied her today told of their experiences. They arrived in Boheman last night.

"It was the most thrilling experience and one of the most delightful too, that I have ever known," said Mrs. Rockefeller to the Associated Press. "We were not lost, as had been reported first, but we were caught in a fierce snowstorm that raged for nearly two hours on the summit of Mount Washburn."

"When we left Yellowstone Canyon, in a big touring car the sun was shining. I want to express my gratitude to C. L. Fuller, our chauffeur, who drove the car, for he showed pluck and perseverance."

"The car was open without glass curtains and as we neared the top of Mt. Washburn, the snow began to fall and the wind began to blow a gale. We kept right on to the top over 10,000 feet above the sea level."

Wind Biting Cold
"By the time we reached the top the wind was biting cold and the snow fell in a blinding sheet. We took refuge in a log cabin, and started a roaring fire."

"Our first concern was to get our chauffeur warmed up. He had failed to bring his overcoat and gloves and he had remained steadily at his post driving the car while we were sheltered by our wraps."

"In the cabin as snow piled up outside and the wind increased in fury, we wondered whether we were going to be marooned there. There was a little feeling of anxiety. None of us said anything about it, however."

"After about two hours of heavy snowfall, the winds died down and the clouds rolled away, so we started back. "It seemed odd to be caught in such a cold snow storm in July, but we really enjoyed every minute of it."

"HELLO BILLS" GATHER AT ATLANTIC CITY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 10.—Gaily decorated in purple and white bunting, Atlantic City today extended its "Hello Bill" to the anti-trust herd invading the resort for the annual meeting of grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which opens tonight. More than 10,000 delegates representing all sections of the country, already have registered and grand officers predicted that at least 50,000 will be here to take part in the grand parade on Thursday, the concluding feature of the convention.

A delegation of about 50 members of congress, headed by "Uncle Joe" Cannon, is expected during the week. Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt, a member of the Freepress lodge, is on the program for an address Thursday.

CAVING FOR 'SHINE CAUSED HIS ARREST

CHICAGO, July 10.—William A. Day, Bedford, Ind., for 20 years a petty officer in the United States navy was arrested yesterday as a deserter and an embezzler of the $1900 mess funds of the U.S.S. Mississippi, which he deserted at San Pedro, Cal., Dec. 1, last year.

Day is six feet one inch tall, a handsome figure of a man, 39 years old and appears ten years younger. At the detective bureau he admitted obtaining $16,000 in various amounts from friends and relatives of men and officers of the Mississippi and other ships since his desertion. A craving for "moonshine" he declared led to his irregularities.

"Among his victims" was his own mother. He admitted having wired her under the name of an officer of the Mississippi that he was dead; thereby securing $500 for his funeral expenses.

Oil Coke On Way to Lowell

Antee and become a substitute for stove coal should the supply remain inadequate.

At the present time there is not enough anthracite coal in Lowell to shake a stick at and none is expected in any great quantity until next fall. If then, it depends entirely upon a settlement of the miners' strike. An isolated car may roll in now and then, but only periodically and it will cost so much to get it here that the price to the consumer will be considerably more than the present quotation of $16.50 per ton.

Herbert W. Horne of the Horne Coal company said today that he has not received one pound of anthracite coal since April 11 and does not expect any until late in September. The Horne Coal company said a number of its men last Saturday and today had only three trucks in service and one of these was hauling soft coal.

"We are all cleaned out," said Mr. Horne, "and there is nothing for the men to do."

In discussing the local situation, Mr. Horne said that while it is possible to go out and buy anthracite coal, he does not feel like asking the people of Lowell to pay more than $16.50 per ton for it. He stated that he could not get coal into Lowell for any less than $16.50, which is the present price delivered to the consumer.

"I don't think the people of Lowell want coal badly enough at this time to pay $18 or $19 a ton for it," said Mr. Horne, "but that is what the price would have to be, if it costs a dealer $16.50 or better to get the coal into the city from the mines."

John M. O'Donoghue, appointed as fuel administrator for Lowell by Mayor George H. Brown, said today that whatever action is taken by him, will come on suggestion of Eugene C. Hultman, state fuel administrator and chairman of the commission on the necessities of life. At present, Mr. O'Donoghue does not feel that there is much he can do, inasmuch as Mr. Hultman receives and publishes a monthly report which shows coal conditions in all cities throughout the state.

"Any investigation I might make," said Mr. O'Donoghue today, "would seem to be only a duplication of the work Mr. Hultman now is doing. If the situation becomes critical, as fall approaches, I am sure Mr. Hultman will advise local directors when he deems the situation critical enough to demand action."

Catholic Church News

Quarterly communion exercises of the Young Men's Catholic Institute were held in the Immaculate Conception church yesterday morning and in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Stockport street. Several hundred members of the institute, with President Thomas R. Higgins and other officers in the lead, received communion at the 8 o'clock mass. Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I., assisted in giving sacrament, and also addressed the young men. Members of the Immaculate Conception sodality received at the 7 o'clock mass.

General communion for all the women's sodalities as well as the young men's took place at St. Patrick's church yesterday at 7 o'clock. The Rev. Monsignor William O'Brien officiating and was assisted at holy communion by Rev. James A. Supple, D.D. A special program of music was given by the three choirs, with Mr. Joseph J. Green, soloist, under the direction of Miss Mary Egan. The organist was Miss Sarah A. Murray.

Members of the Holy Name society will receive communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass at St. Peter's next Sunday. It is expected that the summer schedule will be out. The summer schedule was observed yesterday, with a low mass instead of a high, at 11 o'clock.

At St. Michael's church yesterday, Rev. John J. Shaw, the pastor, celebrated the 8 o'clock mass at which the Holy Name society received communion. Benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament was conducted by Rev. James R. Lynch after the 11 o'clock mass.

of which he was the celebrant.

During the coming week there will be a meeting of the heads of all the churches in the coming week. The "love feast" to be raffled off at the event will be on exhibition in the entrance of the parish school next Sunday. Yesterday the members of the Holy Name society received their quarterly communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass.

It is expected that announcement will be made next Sunday of the winner of the "love feast" for which chances were sold at the recent lawn party.

At St. Columba's church yesterday, Fr. Fogarty, having taken his departure from the parish, celebrated the 8 o'clock mass. Rev. P. J. Hall, pastor, said the late mass and Rev. James P. Somers the two earlier masses.

Three Lowell Cases

"I will have to be an assistant city solicitor. The work simply is too great for one man to handle."

Mr. Tierney had figured out that for all his work tomorrow for the city, including three appearances in the supreme court, he will receive approximately $10. The fee for an outside attorney in the month fund case alone, would be $1000," he commented.

Albert S. Howard will be Mr. Tierney's opponent in the Blazon mandamus action, while he will be pitted against J. Henry Gifford in the automobile controversy.

Mayor Brown, City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke, City Purchasing Agent Edward H. Foye, and City Auditor Daniel E. Martin have been served with notices to appear on the automobile matter. Mr. Foye said today he will attend the court session, Mayor Brown said he would not, but the other officials have not decided whether to make the trip.

Mr. Foye will not be able to get away until after 9 o'clock, for at that hour he will open bids on the two Peckard trucks under discussion. It is believed that several members of the Automobile Dealers' association also will attend the hearing.

Mr. Tierney believes that Judge Crosby, who will hear the Nashmuth fund case, will order the matter to the full bench of the court for argument and decision.

Cases in District Court which the alleged burglar intended to escape until he found there was a drop of about 40 feet.

Mr. O'Malley said that he found the desk forced open, but nothing of any importance was missing. Officer Clark added that in conference with State Officer Fred Gilmore and the defendant, he had been told that the defendant stated that he did not remember the occurrences of last night.

Judge Fisher found probable cause and held the defendant in $1000 bonds for the superior court.

Liquor Law Violations

Three alleged liquor law violators pleaded guilty, and paid fines of $100 each. There were Gerald Seminare, illegal sale, and William Wicocka, and Adick Sackie, illegal keeping.

Phyllis Couture pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition. After an officer had testified to Couture's actions, he was fined $50, and paid at once.

Michael Marzelo was in for non-support of his wife and three minor children, aged 9 to 12. Marzelo earns from $25 to $30 a week, and the whole case seemed to hinge on the question of whether the surplus over expenses should be deposited in his or his wife's name. Mrs. Marzelo testified that he had always turned his pay over until he left her last September, although he had contributed to her support until May. Since then he has done nothing but pay the rent and gas bills. She has $1500 in the bank; he has $1000. She also has a worth of Liberty Bonds, but for with his money. A short time ago she gave him $250 which he used to buy stock in a foundry, where he had worked for 15 years. Recently he has been employed by the Kilson machine shop.

The man testified that besides the rent and gas bills which he had been paying he has been giving his wife $4.50 a week. He said he would be willing to go back home and turn over the pay he earns, providing the balance is deposited in his name rather than in her name. An agreement was reached on this basis, although the judge advised him that the money was better placed under his own name than under his wife's name, where he could spend it on stocks. The case was continued for a year.

A couple of amateur fishermen, William Finn and Alfred St. Louis, neither of whom possesses a license to fish, were brought into court by Game Warden Harold L. Crosby, who after receiving many complaints, visited Massapog pond in Tyngsboro and found them fishing there. As this is a recently stocked pond, they were placed in a difficult situation, and paid fines of $10 each.

Patrolman Assailed

Patrolman John Mahan appeared on the stand with a badly discolored left eye in support of a charge of drunkenness and assault and battery against John McCann, 68 years old, and another charge of drunkenness and interference against James McGrath, a man of middle age. According to the officer's story the men were creating a disturbance on the South street side of the South common. He ordered them from the bench where they were seated and McGrath took his departure, but McCann defied the officer to remove him. While he was removing him McGrath resisted, inflicting the injury to the officer's eye, and while he was placing him under arrest McGrath walked past and collided with the patrolman. McGrath pleaded that he has a wife to support, and McGrath said he worked around Acton, but the judge ordered the drunkenness charges placed on file and the men were fined $20 each on the other charges. One month was given in each instance to raise the fines.

Frank A. Collins asserted that when he was taken to the station for drunkenness he asked Officer Mahan to procure the city physician to examine him. The officer defied the statement, and the defendant was given a sentence of one month in the house of correction, suspended for six months. Collins conducted his own case, and asked for a "water" continuance to secure counsel, which was not granted.

Arthur Dumont pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and paid $10. John Donahue, alleged to have been found helpless in the Elliot church basement Saturday night, was given a suspended sentence of one month in the house of correction.

Further Ordered: That the City Treasurer shall issue registered certificates in exchange for any of said coupon bonds, at the request of the holder thereof, in compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 107, and acts amendatory thereof and in addition thereto.

FRENCH MAY WITHDRAW

Attitude of Russians May Cause Delegates to Leave

The Hague

PARIS, July 10. (By the Associated Press).—Withdrawal of the French representatives from The Hague conference today (Monday) owing to the attitude of the Russians, is declared probable by the morning's newspapers. Instructions sent to France's delegates yesterday by Premier Poincare are said to support this assertion.

The French experts at The Hague are at complete liberty to return to Paris at any time they are convinced they are no longer able to do useful work there, it was announced at the foreign office today but they have not yet informed the government that they had given up hope of co-operative work with the commissions dealing with the Russian problem.

This statement apparently was drawn out by declarations in this morning's Paris newspapers that the withdrawal of the French representatives from The Hague conference today was probable, owing to the attitude of the Russians and that instructions sent to the French delegates yesterday by Premier Poincare supported this assertion.

Russia Ready

THE HAGUE, July 10.—Russia is ready to grant concessions for new railroad lines and 1,000,000 hectares of land (15,800,000 acres) for agriculture, it was announced by the Russian delegation here today.

METEORITES ATTRACT ATTENTION OF MANY

Within the past few months the entire part of the United States has been visited by two meteorites of considerable size and a third has been seen in southern California. In all three cases the flights of the meteorites were observed over an area of many square miles and were attended by intense flashes of light from the meteorite, luminous root-like trails and loud detonations and concussions.

These attendant phenomena are produced by friction with the earth's atmosphere, which meteorites enter with velocities that have been known to run as high as 45 miles a second. The initial velocity is so rapidly reduced by friction that most meteorites strike the surface with the ordinary velocity of falling bodies.

The depths to which a meteorite penetrates the earth's surface, is rarely more than a few feet. Perry's huge Cape York meteorite, the largest known, which weighs 37½ tons, was found only partially covered and showed no surface marks indicating that it had struck the surface with high velocity. The second largest stone, known as the Bacubirito iron, and weighing 20 tons, lies where it fell on the plain near Bacubirito, Mex., only slightly below the level of the surrounding field. The Villametta meteorite, the third largest known, which weighs 1½ tons and is now in the American Museum of Natural History in New York, was found lying in a forest in Oregon.

The temperature of meteorites immediately after falling differs greatly in individual cases, some being too hot to handle for several hours, while others have been intensely cold, or even coated with ice, when found. At the time it enters the earth's atmosphere, the mass is invariably intensely cold, for it has been subjected to the temperature of interplanetary space, which is not far from the absolute zero of 459 degrees Fahrenheit.

The heat produced by friction with the atmosphere is usually sufficient to cause a fusion or even ignition of the surface materials and nearly all stony meteorites are found coated with a thin, black, glass-like crust.

The composition of a meteorite is so characteristic that one can never mistake such a stone for one of terrestrial origin or vice versa. All meteorites are composed of igneous materials—that is, material that has been subjected to intense heat—and they were formed where free oxygen and water vapor were scarce.

They may all be classed under one of the three divisions of siderites or iron meteorites, composed chiefly of an alloy of nickel-iron, aerolites, or stony meteorites, consisting chiefly of silicates of a form and structure totally unlike any that occur in the earth's crust; and siderolites, or stony-iron meteorites, in which a sponge or network of nickel-iron alloy is filled with the stony material.

Though there is some uncertainty as to the origin of meteoric stones or meteorites, they probably are the minute fragments of the primitive solar nebula that failed to be swept up originally in the formation of the larger member of the system and which finally were trapped by the earth's atmosphere. Jacob M. Lewis of U. S. Naval Observatory, in St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

STREET CARS OPERATE IN BUFFALO ZONE

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 10.—An attempt to operate street cars was made by the International Railway company today, the 10th day of the strike.

One of the four cars sent over the Main street route was derailed a block from the car barn. A large crowd of strikers and sympathizers surrounded the car and forced the workmen while they were getting it back on the rails. Some stones were thrown. One arrest was made.

An hour later cars, screened with wire mesh and surrounded by policemen in automobiles and on motorcycles again went down Main street. No passengers were carried.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

An exceptionally fine program has been arranged for the first part of the week at the Merrimack Square theatre. The leading attractions will be "North of the Rio Grande," starring Jack Holt and Bobo Daniels. "The Greatest Truth," featuring a selected cast, will be the second feature.

THE STRAND

More thrills, more fun and more genuine entertainment is packed into one and one-half hours of time devoted to the showing of "Reported Missing," the Seizabek special photoplay, starring Owen Moore, and to be offered at The Strand during the first three days of the week, than any like film offering of a season. It is said to be possessed of every element found in a high-class screen creation. See it and laugh, be thrilled and entertained. Don't always cool and comfortable. Don't forget the other features as well, including "Just Outside the Door," featuring Edith Hallor, the perfect woman of the screen.

Opening of Playgrounds lasts from 3 to 4.30. They are opened every day except Saturday and Sunday.

About three hundred children reported at the South common playground and it seemed that all three hundred made a dive for the swings. These seemed the most important things on the common in the eyes of the children and they stood in line waiting for their turn. Every morning the exercises will open with the salute to the flag, followed by a community sing. From eight to nine o'clock there will be a sewing class in the Elliot school for the younger children while the older ones play volleyball, captain ball, baseball, basketball, stride ball and various other games. Later, the older girls will go to the school for a sewing session and the younger ones will return to the common for their share of games.

This morning, there were four ball games going on in different parts of the common and some of them were very interesting.

The children in the sewing classes started on hot dish doilies and towels and simple embroideries, which gives them an idea of darning, and they can turn this to practical use in the darning of stockings and the mending of dresses. The older girls will make doll clothes and dolls.

And at the end of the year there will be an exposition of the work done during the year.

There will be a baseball league formed for the boys and games will be played with other playgrounds for the playground championship. Certain days will be known as special days for the girls and on those days teams will come from the other grounds to play volleyball, basketball, captain ball, and so on. The girls of the South common will then journey to some of the other places to play a return game.

The North Common

The exercises on the North common opened in the same way and here again the swings were the main attraction for boys and girls. In one corner the swings were crowded with their capacity, in another a game of volleyball, in another stride ball, and on the diamond a ball game, were all going on and all were perfectly contented.

Cooking and sewing classes are to be conducted in the North common school. It is planned to have a track team for both the boys and girls and carry on tournaments with the other grounds. If enough children have the equipment, a tennis team will be formed and the games played on the Normal school courts. There will be two baseball leagues at this common, the junior league for boys up to eight years of age, and the senior league for boys from eight to fifteen years. It is also planned to have a swimming pool.

team and the meets will be conducted in the Y.M.C.A. pool. Miss Cora McGauvran will have charge of the cooking at the Morrill school, and Miss Reardon will have the sewing. The sewing class will make dresses and fancy underwear and, as that year, at the end of the season, the girls will have some very attractive clothes. The cooking class will preserve all fruits in season, and will be taught to make different kinds of candies. The idea is to teach the children to assist their mothers in the household duties.

At Shedd park, the tennis courts and the ball fields were the centre of attraction and it is the intention of the instructor to have a junior tennis tournament. The same policy will be carried out here that is outlined for the other playsteads and they will be a member of the baseball league.

A fine attendance was reported at all the other playgrounds and as the children wear off the novelties, the children will settle down to regular schedules. The instructors of the girls at the playgrounds are either teachers in the local schools or college students, while the instructors for the boys are well known athletes, either of the high school or some college.

Irishmen Quiet After Turmoil

Irish army has apparently transferred its headquarters from Malloy to Limbrick, as Sunday's official statement was issued from the latter place.

The statement claims the whole of the south, west and Midland section of the republic although it admits Kilkenny, Thurles, Nenagh and Shannonbridge are held by the Free Staters. It also concedes that the republicans have evacuated Sligo, which the national forces now occupy, and says fighting is in progress in the surrounding areas.

As regards Limbrick City normal conditions have been practically restored, most of the commandeered buildings being evacuated and the troops withdrawn for duty elsewhere.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

HELFEST, July 10.—The bridge at Duncree, County Louth has again been blown up, with four others, thus severing rail communication between Dublin and Belfast. All trains between the two cities have been cancelled, and those which had already started, were recalled.

Telephone communication between Belfast and Dublin was restored today.

MILL HAZARDS AND HOW TO AVOID THEM

Issued by the
Massachusetts Safety Council

BY FRANK E. MORRIS
Safety Engineer

A slender, tired looking young woman approached the window of the industrial accident board in the state house recently and asked anxiously, "Is my compensation check here?"

The clerk at the desk consulted a record book and found that her money had been mailed to her that very morning. "It is probably in your mail box now, Mrs. Hansen," he replied.

"Well, but that's a long way from here, and I wanted to get some things for the children, and I don't know when I can get someone to stay with them again," she replied; and as she stood there looking vacantly out of the window, I could imagine her saying for the hundredth time, "Jim Hansen, why weren't you more careful?"

Here's the story as it was told to me. Jim had been warned many times by his boss in the mill that he should be more careful when it was in motion; but Jim was a "chance-taker." He was one of those quick and strong fellows who had never been seriously injured while at work, and he had a notion that he never would be. He had been often reprimanded by one out of every 25 workers in Massachusetts for being seriously injured every year, but that didn't stir him. Jim had the most dangerous job in his department, where 30 men worked; and yet he figured that he possessed a kind of a charm against accidents and he continued to take unnecessary chances.

Oiling Machine in Motion

One day his foreman saw him oiling a machine that was not shut down and he warned him again about his carelessness and he told him that he would fire him the next time. For a week or two Jim tried hard for the sake of his family, but before carelessness became a habit with him he slipped back into his old ways and the time came when Jim was caught on a moving machine that he had no business to be near, and he was so badly hurt that he died on the following day.

Jim's death was but one of 275 fatalities in Massachusetts last year, some of which, of course, were due largely to the inherent risks of the industry, but most of them might have been averted had the worker used more care.

There was a time, and it was not so very long ago either, when Jim's widow would not have received a dollar of benefit for his death unless the employer contributed it out of charity, or unless the widow fought her case through the courts; but all of that has been changed by the adoption of the workmen's compensation law.

IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The Ward 8, Precinct 3 Improvement Association held a special meeting in its rooms in Gorham street, yesterday afternoon. A swimming pool for the district, proposed by Ward Councilor Chadwick, was discussed at length and it is hoped that definite action on the project will be taken soon. A fishing trip will be held the first Sunday in August. As reservations will be made for 150 members, it is advisable that those intending to go should record their names with the secretary as soon as possible. A dance committee was appointed composed of President J. Ready, G. Mc-Kenna, Lewis Farrell, Eugene Mo-Ardle, Edwin Lewis, Peter Kane, W. Hanley and Patrick Ward. The next meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday, July 18.

Many Well Known Local Men Take Offices in Remodeled Appleton Bank Building

The reconstructed Appleton Bank building in Central street now stands as one of the city's most modern and best appointed and equipped office buildings.

For several months, the work of remodeling was carried on with the greatest of care, so as to allow the daily work of the bank and the Harrison store to continue without interruption. That this was accomplished was due in no small measure to the engineering ability of the R. E. Runels Construction Co., that had the general contract. Ralph E. Runels and Charles W. Runels are the firm members and each has an engineering degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. While their business is fairly new in the city, they have made rapid strides and already have a number of splendid jobs to their credit.

It was deemed advisable to lay a new roof on the building and Douglas and Co. was selected to do the work. The task of installing appropriate electrical fixtures was not an easy one. They were furnished by the L. A. Derby Co. of Middle street, and the new wiring also was done by this company. A thoroughly modern equipment has been installed, which includes the latest type of meter arrangement. All wires have been carefully insulated and hidden from view and the artificial lighting of the building is considered one of its very best features.

Hardware, carefully selected so that it would harmonize with the interior finish, was furnished by the Adams Hardware Co.

The building has been equipped with adequate elevator service, both for passengers and freight. They were installed by the Otis Elevator Co. and are smooth running cars that work with the minimum amount of effort.

The painting and interior decorating throughout the building was done by E. C. Pearson, whose reputation for good work is unquestioned. The walls have been tinted in buff and this shade accentuates the great amount of natural light that enters the building.

In order that even more light might be secured for offices on the fourth floor, skylights were installed by the Knowlton & Newton Co. This firm also furnished the ventilators and did the work of tinning of all doors.

All plastering was done by Austin Galtier and the plumbing work was installed by John J. Mullane and Co. of Market street.

Occupants of the Building

Long before the building was ready for occupancy, a number of well established firms had announced their intention of moving their offices there. At present, most of the available space has been leased and the tenants include many familiar names.

The plate glass arcade on the second floor is considered one of the finest developments in the city. Hatch, the photographer, of Boston, has a studio there, and H. Zeller, furrier, has taken over a considerable amount of store space.

Facing the elevator on the third floor is the entering door of the office of Murphy & Gormley, real estate and insurance, a strategic location for an office and one that has the advantage of the bright sun of the south and east sides. This is room 301.

The entire third floor wing on the southeast corner is occupied by the general offices of the Talbot Dyewood and Chemical Co., whose Middle street store required the space until recently used by the company offices. This suite is quiet, cheerful and airy. Treasurer Harry P. Knapp and his office force have moved in and are in direct contact with the Middle street store by private wire. The Talbot suite includes rooms 305, 306, 307 and 308.

The three room suite, 309, 310 and 311, on the northeast corner of this floor, is to be occupied by W. J. Rodgers, chiropractor, who also has offices in Lawrence.

The well equipped and most attractive suite which includes 315, 316 and 317, two rather large rooms and one lesser room, is occupied by Dr. Richard J. McCluskey, physician and surgeon, who had been for a number of years at 40 Middlesex street. The north light coming in through Warren street is ideal for medical offices.

Next in line on this corridor is Dr. M. H. Hyman, physician, who is establishing himself here after a period of service as house physician at the Lowell General hospital.

Joseph F. Donohoe, who for years has had a real estate office in the Hildreth building, is preparing to occupy rooms 320 and 321 for his real estate and insurance business. All the suites along this corridor consist of a waiting room and a large outside room.

The corner room, number 322, one of the brightest in the building, has been rented by McPadden and Breen, well known real estate men with insurance business as part of their line.

The next room, fronting wholly on Central street, is occupied by Cantor, Ryan and Co., who move downtown from Thorndike street to accommodate their activities. Their business is insurance of all kinds.

The next room, which adjoins the elevator and consists of a double room carrying the number 321 and which has four large Central street windows, is now occupied by Lane & Wood, for real estate and insurance.

In the southwest wing is the three-room suite occupied by Thomas G. Robbins, attorney; John S. A. Simpson, contractor, and William F. Boyle, constable. For years these three were associated together in offices in the Hildreth building.

Also on the third floor, occupying rooms 331-332, is George Greenberg, another former Hildreth building occupant, who carries on a real estate and insurance business.

The law firm of Kerwin & Reilly, J. J. Kerwin and J. C. Reilly occupies a large suite on the fourth floor. Associated with them are three other well known attorneys, J. J. O'Sullivan, J. Henry Gilbride and J. J. Flaherty.

Ellis & Peterson, real estate and insurance, have moved into offices numbered 424-425-426.

The law firms of Hayes & Lavelle, Frank J. Garvey and Philip Samuels have offices on this floor and Elliott Katz, commercial reports, also is established there.

Remarking Agents

The firm of Marden & Murphy, commercial specialists, has been actively connected with the reconstruction of the building and the leasing of rental of any space in the building is in their hands.

NEVADA'S TAX HIGHEST

taxes in 1920, $6.03, was reported by Rhode Island.

Jamaica Plain Priest Says
Duty of All to Notify Authorities

BOSTON, July 10—Mgt. Arthur T. Connolly, rector of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Jamaica Plain, speaking at one of the masses yesterday, declared that it is the duty of every law-abiding citizen to notify the proper authorities of violations of the prohibition law. He declared further that he thought the time would come when light wines and beers would be permitted, but until that was allowed by the sanction of the law people should abide by the laws on the statute books and help the authorities in their enforcement. During the course of his sermon, Mr. Connolly said that prohibition had been put over by a crowd of hypocrites and that its results are disgusting. "I have heard stories," said he, "of people who had lived in houses for years and who paid their rent punctually, but who vacated because the tenant in the flat above or below them manufactured 'hootch.' I don't think the authorities knew it, but they should have been informed." Monsignor Connolly intimated that boys of 15 and 16 years of age had been seen to enter places at various times of the day, and that when they emerged they were either half drunk, or drunk. "These facts should be presented to the landlord," said he, "and if the conditions are not remedied recourse should be had to the legal authorities, where results can be obtained."

MANY SWARM STREETS IN LONSDALE, R. I.

LONSDALE, R. I., July 10.—Hundreds of strikers were on the streets of this village early today in anticipation of another eviction of strikers from houses of the Lonsdale company. Strike sympathizers were also out in force in the village of Berkeley expecting an attempt would be made to evict some of the strikers there from the company houses but no deputies put in an appearance in either village, although they stated on Saturday after evicting three Lonsdale families they expected to return and resume operations today in this village and also in Berkeley. John H. Powers, a member of the executive council of the United Textile Workers of America, said that tents are on their way here from headquarters in New York, and that they would be put up in a lot secured for that purpose. The Cumberland town council has voted to open the town farm for house evicted strikers who desire accommodation there.

SEEN AND HEARD

All the bathing suits must come from Missouri.
In Detroit, a man married a girl the first day he met her. Give him the loving cup.

Maybe when a restaurant in France wants to act highbrow it prints the menu in English.

A Thought

Fortune! There is no fortune! All is trial or punishment or recompense or foresight!—Voltaire.

Cause For Grudge

"You say that this man has a grudge against you?" demanded the judge. "Yes, your honor," replied Bill, the boy. "When I was blind he used to steal the pennies from my cup, and when I was a cripple he'd run down the street with my box of pencils." "Anything else?" "Yes, your honor. Once when I was deaf and dumb he shot off a firecracker underneath me."

Today's Word

Today's word is perpetuate. It's pronounced per-pyoo-ate, the first a as in form, the second a short, the u as in unite, and the long. Accent is on the second syllable. It means—to cause to endure, or to be continued, indefinitely. It comes from the Latin perpetuus, perpetual, meaning to perpetuate. It's used like this: Memorial Day exercises tend to perpetuate memories of the nation's heroes.

Disgruntled Farmer

Secretary John H. Kimble of the Farmers' national congress said in an address at Fort Deposit: "It makes the farmer grumpy when he hears about the six-hour day and the five-day week that some of these 'advanced' labor leaders are demanding. A farmer would like a new hard one day. Of course you believe in the eight-hour system? I do, I grumbled the farmer. 'Eight hours in the forenoon, eight hours in the afternoon, and two or three hours over time in the evening till you get your hay in.'—Detroit Free Press.

Many Years Ago

White-haired Uncle Peter Perkins, known as the oldest person in his community, was standing by his gate when a touring car stopped close behind him. Several of the ladies in it asked numerous patronizing questions concerning the locality. Then one of them remarked: "You must have been around here quite a long time." Uncle Peter slowly raised his stick and pointed toward a not distant mountain. "Yes, marm," he said gravely. "I have. You see that there big high mountain over across? Well, the time I first came here that there mountain wasn't but just about the bigness of an ant hill."—Harper's Magazine.

Like Father, Like Son

William, resident in light trousers, silk shirt, fancy waistcoat and a necktie which spoke for itself, had just returned from college. He entered the room where his father was reading. The old man looked up and surveyed his son. The longer he looked the more disgusted he became. "My boy," he said finally, "you look like a fool!" Later, the old major who lived next door came in and greeted the boy heartily. "William," he said, with undisguised admiration, "you look like your father did 20 years ago, when he came back from school." "Yes," replied William, with a smile, "my father's just been telling me."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Bitter Wing Bitten

Congressman Milton Kraus of the Penn. Ind. district, says one of the funniest incidents that ever happened out there occurred some years ago when a delegation of republicans were on their way from Marion to Peru to attend a convention. It was necessary to change cars at the little town of Bunker Hill, where a considerable number of democrats were waiting. While away the time the delegation walked up and down the track about 100 yards each direction from the station. The best-dressed and liveliest man in the delegation was the sheriff. In honor of the occasion he had doled himself up in a new suit, new hat, patent leather shoes and silk socks. He had also spent an hour with the barber, getting shaved, massaged, shampooed to everything. He was feeling unusually exuberant. Observing six or seven natives sitting around the depot on the baggage and express trucks, he decided to have some fun with them. He told the gang he was going to scare the daylight out of the bunch of natives by dancing up the track like a bear and yelling like a crazy man. "As soon as I get going," he added, "you fellows act frightened, and yell to those chaps to stop the crazy man, and then watch them run for their lives." But they didn't run. Instead, they all leaped on the supposed crazy man, Silas, and, they grabbed him by the arms, legs, throat and hair. They wallowed him down between the ties, shoved his face into the clinders and sat upon him. It was all done so quickly the sheriff couldn't utter a word of explanation, and his friends were too far away and too full of laughter to interfere. The convention was held over by the time the doctor finished extracting the clinders from the features of the sheriff, and that worthy had negotiated a new pair of trousers and a shirt.—National Republican.

The Other End of There

It sounds too good to be true, but I have a friend who has a plan. That I'm morally sure is true. To all of the human race. O how could a spot be tame. And what else could it be, but fair. With such a beguiling name. As the Other End of There.

Happy It Lies Near

Or possibly near it lies, Under some happy star. Set in the cloudless skies; Anyhow I shall find The makings of some where. For I can follow the wind To the Other End of There.

So when the world goes wrong

Stream and struggle and strife— And there seems to be no more. In the whole dull round of life, I will sing a merry song. In the gloomy face of care, And pack my kit and be off. To the Other End of There. —Clinton Scotland in New York Herald.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Our old friend, Mr. Edmund B. Conant, dropped into The Sun office on Saturday to say that the late Thomas F. Maguire had spent part of the forenoon in Mr. Conant's office on Central street on the day before his death, and seemed to be as usual. Mr. Conant had been one of the oldest advertisers connected with The Sun, his office was frequently visited by Mr. Maguire who found amusement in looking over the papers from New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Chicago and other great cities in which Mr. Conant had advertised his sales. Mr. Maguire had often mentioned what a great amount of advertising Mr. Conant gives the city of Lowell in his tours all over the country as far as at least as the middle west, as he always dates his advertisements from his Lowell office and always registers his townships from Massachusetts. When asked if he rides on railroad trains or uses his auto to reach the various points at which he conducted sales, he states that he invariably uses the auto because then he knows just when he will reach his destination and he can go at his leisure without having to follow any roundabout train route as he would frequently have to do if he had to depend upon the railroads. Mr. Conant informed The Sun representative that he doesn't accept more than 65 per cent of the business offered him. It is well known that he has conducted some of the largest sales in the country. It may be stated also that Mr. Conant himself is a great institution for booming the city of Lowell. At present he seems to be in the very best of health and when asked how he keeps looking so fresh and healthy, he said there is one reason in particular and that is that wherever he goes he never does, he never allows his business to prevent him from getting eight hours' sleep every night. Besides, he said, he eats only the best of food properly cooked and in moderation. That is certainly a good health rule and one that would keep almost anybody in good condition. When asked as to business conditions, Mr. Conant remarked that they are good in spots and good by fits and starts, but that the country will right itself very soon and then we shall all get back again to the good old American prosperity. It may be stated here, that Mr. Conant has always been an optimist, but at the same time, always a good prognosticator as to future business conditions.

All is in readiness for the annual outing of the Anglo Canadian sodality of St. Joseph's parish, which will be held next Thursday at Canobie Lake park. The affair as a rule is an outing for the entire parish and it is said that this year will be no exception to the rule, for already men, women and children, the latter in great numbers, have secured their tickets. The affair will be in the hands of Rev. Aurelien Morel, O.S.I., who is being ably assisted by a committee of members of the sodality, and nothing is being spared to make it one of the best. The outing is really a parish reunion and ordinarily several clergymen accompany the excursionists and lend a hand in making the little ones happy and also in keeping them away from dangerous places. The outing has been conducted annually for at least 15 years and as far as I can learn there has never been any accident recorded. Patrolman Joseph L. Lamoureux is generally in charge of the sports and he has always proved to be the right man in the right place. It is expected that Joe will again be on the scene next Thursday morning. The prominent man at the Thursday morning meeting is Joseph Albert, who after the official list of sports is carried, takes charge and carries a list of events on his own hook, giving cash prizes to the winners. The boys and girls say they hope Joe will be there as usual, as he is always proved a great amusement provider.

While the city folks are sweltering from the intense heat, the sports of St. Joseph's college are enjoying the breeze of Tyngsboro, where they are spending the summer on the farm they recently acquired, and which in the fall they will convert into a home for the aged members of the community. Later the place will be turned into a boarding school for the training of future members of the order. The brothers while at their summer home, are not idle by any means, for they till the land. Most of them are expert gardeners and the large tract of land they are now cultivating is a beautiful sight and well covered with crops in full bloom. Some of the brothers specialize in the raising of certain vegetables, while others are kept busy in the corn or potato patches, and it is fair to assume that in the fall they will raise enough garden truck to keep their table supplied for the greater part of the year. Heretofore, they maintained a large garden in the rear of their home on Moody street, but this year they have abandoned that patch and are all devoting their energies to the Tyngsboro farm.

It will pay you to get The Sun classified adv. habit.

SCHOOL JANITORS WILL MEET HERE

The 18th annual convention of the Massachusetts Public School Janitors' association will be held in this city on Wednesday and Thursday of the present week. It was originally planned to use the new Auditorium for the affair, but as that will be impossible, the convention will meet in high school hall and morning sessions will begin promptly at 10 o'clock. Mayor George H. Brown will extend an official welcome to the delegates and Mr. Dooley of the state board of education and Mr. Kelly of the Ballard Oil Burning and Equipment Co. will address the convention on matters of importance to every janitor. After committee reports have been read, adjournment will be taken and special cars will convey the delegates and guests to Willow Dale, where a buffet lunch will be served and a ball game and other sports enjoyed. Mayor Peter P. Sullivan of Worcester and Mayor Lawrence B. Quigley of Chelsea, will be present at the outing and will also attend the banquet in the evening, which is to be held at 7:30 o'clock. Other invited guests include Mayor George H. Brown, members of the school committee, Superintendent of Schools Hugh J. Molloy, Supervisor of Janitors William F. Thornton, Business Agent Henry L. Williams and Schoolhouse Custodian Mark Muttney of Boston. Thursday will be devoted entirely to the business affairs of the organization and as the association numbers 27 cities and several towns, the sessions will no doubt prove interesting.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem NO CHANCE

You can't live your own life
The way that you choose,
Nor color and tone life
To meet your own views;
Your play and your labors
Affect all your neighbors
Wherever you happen to stay;
And Tom, Dick and Harry
And Sue, Jane and Mary
Won't quite let you have your own way;
And also their mothers,
Dads, sisters and brothers
And ten thousand others
Have something to say.

Fate gives you no permit
To live as you will;
Why, even a hermit
Has rules to fulfill
And with your location
In civilization
Unless you are blind you will see,
That Tom, Dick and Harry
And Sue, Jane and Mary
Have views that with yours don't agree;
And they and their brothers,
Dads, sisters and mothers
And ten million others
Won't let you be free!

Anxiety Expressed for Mountain Climber

LONDON, July 10.—Anxiety prevails in India regarding the whereabouts of Brig. Gen. Charles G. Bruce, leader of the Mount Everest expedition, according to the Daily Mail's Calcutta correspondent. Nothing whatever has been heard from Gen. Bruce or the other members of his party, says the Calcutta despatch since George Finch, Lieutenant Col. Strutt and Dr. Longstaff arrived at Darjeeling, a fortnight ago, and it is not known whether they are returning or are making a further attempt to scale the mountain.

THE SENATORIAL FIGHT

The announcement of his candidacy for United States senator by Sherman L. Whipple of Boston, removes whatever doubts might have existed as to his final course in regard to the senatorial fight. For some months past Mr. Whipple had been "mentioned" as a candidate, and he had expressed apparent dissatisfaction when Colonel Gaston came out as a candidate with a brief statement of his reasons. Mr. Whipple seldom issues any statement that is not sufficiently long to be quite noticeable in a newspaper. It is very evident that the contest between Mr. Whipple and Col. Gaston will be quite a lively one; but it is hoped that neither will descend to bitter personalities which will leave each with blood against the nomination that the nominees will have no chance of election. In recent years the democrats have lost heavily by these desperate political struggles before the primary elections. That is probably the most effective means of settling their political party that could be adopted. In some cases such conflicts have been planned by republicans as a means of helping their party candidates to victory and unfortunately the plan worked like a charm.

There is undoubtedly a good fighting chance to defeat Senator Lodge on his record, provided the democracy puts a candidate in the field who can draw the full strength of his own party and a considerable fraction of the opposition. Regardless of any unpopularity that may operate against Senator Lodge, unless such a candidate be nominated the democrats will make a losing fight and Lodge will again be elected. Mr. Whipple will gain a losing fight and Lodge will again be elected. Mr. Whipple is not credited with being himself a very aggressive campaigner, neither is Col. Gaston. But both are good men, either of whom, in well qualified to represent Massachusetts in the United States senate. Mr. Whipple, however, has brought to his side a number of the most aggressive campaigners in the state and if they pursue their usual tactics in support of their candidate, they will certainly hit some heavy blows. What kind of an organization Col. Gaston will have remains to be seen. Up to the present he has been disposed to conduct a rather quiet and dignified campaign, merely discussing economic questions and national issues with the various audiences he has addressed. He is not a man who would willingly precipitate a bitter conflict; but we assume that if it is forced upon him, he will meet the opposition in manly fashion without, however, descending to personalities that would leave festering sores after the primaries.

ROCKEFELLER'S DIMES

The world's richest man, John D. Rockefeller, goes to a circus at the age of 82.
He laughs at the clowns, feeds peanuts to the elephants, applauds the hair-raising acrobatic acts, and buys pink lemonade and "hot dogs." All around, it is a complete circus day, even to his daughter-in-law having her limousine taken on the midway. "It brought back memories of boyhood days," said John D. And it probably is a safe bet that he had the best time on circus days that he had had in 12 years, though the divorcée was of the inexpensive sort with the means of the man who can count the dollars of his weekly pay envelope on his fingers.

The greatest joy of life, far richer or poorer, involve simple things. And our greatest pleasures are inexpensive. Money is abundant, but it is not everything. This may be platitudinous. Most platitudes, however, are true and philosophical.

The mob that followed John D. Rockefeller about the circus was most interested in the dimes he gave to 200 of the fun producers. Observe his system—only one dime for each person, and always a bright, sparkling new dime, fresh from the mint.

John D. always carries a pocketful of dimes—and never appears in public without distributing some of them. He is rich enough to distribute $5 gold pieces. They, however, would be quickly spent. He is shrewd enough to know that nearly everyone would save a dime from the world's richest man, as a "lucky piece."

In his unique psychological way, Rockefeller is trying to impress the public with the value of the humble dime. Possibilities might be hatched back at him in derision. But none except drunken men ever throw away a dime. Probably John D. is like the rest of us, and would spend dollars of time trying to recover a dime lost through a sidewalk grating.

You see Rockefeller, with his dimes, spreading the wisdom of thrift with all the cunning theatrical instinct of Phineas T. Barnum. After all, it was thrift that gave him his start, back in the days when he was a bookkeeper tolling for $35 a month. He learned to handle dimes before he was able to handle dollars. So did Henry Ford, when he was a machinist. So did Schwab, when he was a day-worker in the steel mills.

Comfortable financial independence is a matter of plain old-fashioned thrift, though expanding the modest fortune to a glancie fortune depends on ability and chance.—N.E.A.

AS TO GIRLS

At the age of 103, Mrs. Mary Anna Thompson, of Winthrop, announces that she is thinking of getting her hair bobbed. She probably has a sense of humor and is "stringing" us. Concerning flappers, she comments: "The modern girl is much smarter than the young girls of my day. At heart, they are the same lassies who on Sundays primly carried a little coal stove with them to church to keep their feet warm."

Each generation thinks its young people are going to the dogs. It is refreshing to meet an aged person who has not lost faith in young America. Mrs. Thompson has lived through many freakish styles and temperamental waves—and found that the pendulum always swings back to normal before going far enough from normal to stop the clock.

CHINESE GODS

In the temple at Sing Ying, China, are statues of 625 different Chinese gods.
The Chinese, not desiring to overwork their imaginary divinities, have a separate god for every branch of human activity—for instance, Tu Chien Kuei is the god of gambling and carefully a very hard working deity.
The inability to grasp the idea of One Supreme Intelligence is a sure sign of mental defectiveness, however brilliant the brain may be in other directions. Chinese lack imagination. So do atheists.

PRICE OF RUBBER

Far-off happenings reach and affect us all, eventually. Dutch and British rubber growers unite to regulate the output of rubber. To start with, 100,000 tons of surplus rubber will be held from market "to stabilize prices"—which means, send them up. The buyer of auto tires may get the reaction later.

The citizens of Dover, N. H., have little cause to be ashamed of their energetic mayor, Charles G. Waldron. Attired in working togs, the mayor, we are told, plunged into the work of improving a city park the other day, competing with 100 other citizens in clearing away rubbish and lending a hand in the rubbish clean-up. We congratulate the city of Dover for having a mayor who practices what he preaches and who is not putting up any camouflage to deceive the people.

The Board of Public Service was provided for in the charter as a means of taking the department under its charge out of politics, not to make it part of a great political machine or a refuge for the political lame ducks of any higher official.

Disregard of the charter provisions by some of our public officials leads to confusion and mandamus proceedings that give our city a reputation for legal and political brawls that injure its reputation throughout the commonwealth.

The Lenoxian Enterprise can see no reason why Mr. Allen should aspire to the governorship of Massachusetts this year. Our contemporary thinks that the right of succession should be undisturbed.

Unfortunately there is little prospect of industrial peace. On the contrary the troubles seem to increase and still there is no attempt to come together to reach an intelligent understanding.

The Public Service board cannot legalize an illegal transaction and, besides, there is a question as to whether the board itself is legal as at present constituted.

Fathers and mothers should see to it that their children learn to swim. In no drawing can these sporadic summer drowning tragedies where young folks are victims, be avoided.

The efforts to unite on a list of "the 12 greatest women," arouses real enmity among the illiterates who want to know just what constitutes "greatness" in women anyhow.

The anxious vacationist who got away to the seashore or mountains last week, fearing a railroad tie-up, is probably not worrying about the return trip.

Yes, our charter is very good if properly observed; but the best charter is of little use if its provisions are not strictly applied.

If our charter had the recall provision, it would not now be so popular at city hall.

AILEEN RIGGIN IN A FRONT JACK KNIFE DIVE. THE LARGE DOTTED LINE INDICATES THE DIRECTION OF HER BODY WHEN PHOTOGRAPHED, WHILE THE SMALL DIAGRAM SHOWS GRAPHICALLY THE WHOLE COURSE OF THE DIVE.

By AILEEN RIGGIN
Olympic Fancy Diving Champion
The front jack knife dive is one of the most interesting dives, and requires a supple body.
Good practice for this dive is trying to bend and touch your toes without bending your knees. This is good exercise for anyone.
After standing at attention at the lower end of the board, run and spring into the air as high as possible.

At the top of your spring, bend forward at the hips and touch your toes. Remember to keep the toes pointed. Keep in this position until nearing the water, then straighten out smartly, entering the water head first with the arms above the head and fingers straight with the forefingers touching. When entering the water, you must not be farther than six feet from the end of the board.
Tomorrow—One and one-half somersault dive.

BALL PLAYERS MUST FACE COURT

CONCORD, N. H., July 10.—In spite of the formal, official, public warning given during the past week by County Solicitor Herbert W. Rafine against Sunday baseball, a game was played openly yesterday on the principal diamond in the city, that on the Gun club grounds. The game was played on the grounds across the Merrimack river from the business section of the city. This was the second in a series of local Sunday games. Whether or no another is planned probably depends upon what happens in the local municipal court today when 15 men who took part in yesterday's game will appear before Judge Harry J. Brown and answer to charges of violating the Lord's day observance statute.

Some 1500 people were on the grounds at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the time advertised for starting the game. No organized teams were present, but two lines of well-known baseball players were easily picked and the game began, with Robert Lee, local sport writer and advertising solicitor, as umpire. It had been in progress but a few minutes when one of the police department automobiles drove up with Assistant City Marshal Victor Moore as a passenger.

He halted the game, took down the names of the participants and informed them that they were violating the law, and must appear in court.
The crowd on the bleachers booed the officer long and loud until Deo called for quiet and he and "Dobby" O'Brien, one of the players, pitcher, plumber and actor, made speeches in which they asked the police department to treat everybody alike in the matter of Sunday observance and particularly to investigate what was going on at the Beaver Meadow Golf club.

Officer Moore departed, and in response to demands of "play ball" by the crowd, the ball game was resumed and played to a finish. It was not a very close or exciting game, and many of the crowd followed in the wake of the moving picture camera operator, who left the grounds some after the

HUGE CROWDS AT TENNIS BATTLES

WIMBLEDON, July 10. (By the Associated Press.)—Interest in the concluding stages of the grass court tournament here, showing of tennis, and huge crowds are expected today to witness the final in the men's singles when the Australian, Gerald L. Patterson meets the Englishman, Randolph Lycett.
The match between Mrs. Mollie Blythe and Suzanne Lenglen is still the favorite of the spectators, and the amphitheatre is sure to be packed when they face each other again over the net in the mixed doubles game which is the second event on the program. Mrs. Mollie will play with Dean Mathew, and Miss Lenglen will play with Pat O'Hara Wood.

The women's doubles will be an outdoor court, Miss Lenglen and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, will oppose Miss E. F. Rose and Mrs. J. S. Youle.

WITH THE GOLFERS
Sixteen players qualified for the directors' cup at Longmeadow over the week-end, with J. J. Ward scoring the best gross and M. P. McArthur the best net. The first round will be played off on or before Sunday, July 16, after which there will be a match every week until the final contest.

At Mt. Pleasant, the third qualifying round for the president's cup will be played together with a golf ball tournament. The winners were A. A. Wilson, R. J. Fyler, J. H. Martin and A. W. Bowden. In the consolation the winners were A. E. Howard, H. J. Ross, A. A. Welton and Adam Myrick.

ST. PETER'S CADETS WIN
The St. Peter's Cadets came back to their old form Sunday afternoon, and trimmed the undefeated Congress A.C. by the score of 15 to 2 on the South common. The Cadets had the edge on their opponents in both fielding and hitting. Barron and Carr, the Cadet battery, worked to perfection throughout the entire game. The Cadets will meet the Red Sox next Sunday.

There was no disturbance, unless the jostling of the officers could be so called, and no arrests for that cause were made.
No arrests were made at the Beaver Meadow golf links, and so far as is known no police officer visited the course. The links are located in West Concord and no policeman is on duty in that village except from 7 to 12 p. m. The usual number of players were on the course during the afternoon.

Big Bill Brennan Is Training Hard

"CLIMBING TREES ADDS STRENGTH TO THE LEGS," SAYS BILL

By BOB DORNAN
NEW YORK, July 10.—"Big" Bill Brennan has become a shrinking violet. He's training, as he never trained before in his life.
It's the early morning hours that see Bill seriously at work in Central park near his home.
His audience, a few kids reveling in their new-found freedom from school, the rocks and the wooded paths.
He takes a slow jog of several miles over the winding paths.
A pile of rugged granite boulders gives him a chance to improve his agility.

BRENNAN TRAINING WITH KID IN CENTRAL PARK

And then a few minutes of shadow boxing to give him an appetite for breakfast.
Then Bill is ready to rest until it's time to do his stuff in the gym for the boxing fans.
To Win Impressive
The reason for these early morning workouts is a little bug that has Brennan in its grip.
Of course the mention of Bill's name in connection with a match with the British pugilist is usually greeted with raucous laughter.
But Bill is in deadly earnest.

Chicago Passes Brooklyn in Race; Cleveland Wallops Yankees Twice

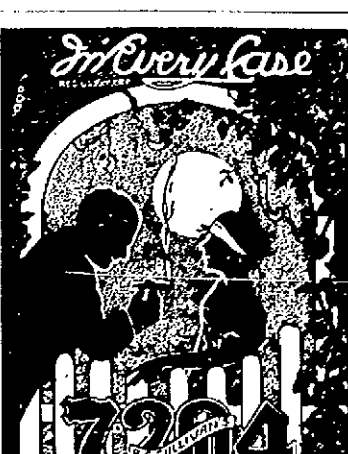

NEW YORK, July 10.—Vic Aldridge's steady twirling checked Boston and gave Chicago its eighth victory out of nine games yesterday, enabling the Cubs to climb over Brooklyn into third place in the National League. Killifer's men are going like a house afire, with their pitching staff in rare form, and promise to make things interesting for the leaders.
The slugging St. Louis Cardinals, who also are going at a speedy clip headed the Brooklyn Dockers in their fourth straight setback, 6-5, in a game filled with eleven-hour thrills. As the Giants were idle, Killy's team climbed to within three and one-half games of the top.
Cleveland made it two in a row from the Yankees tying the score in the ninth and winning in the 13th when Bob Shawkey, who relieved Jones, weakened. Bob Menzel struck at bat with a homer and three singles. Washington defeated Detroit 13 to 7, and Cincinnati pounded out a victory over Philadelphia, 6 to 3. In the latter stages of the game, Jake Daubert homered with four hits, including a homer.

ABBOT BOYS TRIM CLEVELAND GIANTS

The Cleveland Giants of Providence, R.I., bowed in defeat to the Abbot boys at Cranford, N.J., Saturday afternoon, by the score of 2 to 3. The colored boys hit Al Davidson, the Abbot moundsman, for 13 hits, but could do nothing with men on bases. When the Abbots had nine outs in the second event on the program, Mrs. Mallory will play with Dean Mathew, and Miss Lenglen will play with Pat O'Hara Wood.

DEMPSEY-GREB BOUT IS DECLARED OFF

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—Announcement that the proposed Dempsey-Greb bout here on Labor day would not take place was made today by John Bell, Pittsburgh promoter who has been negotiating for such an attraction.
Bell stated that had Kearns, Dempsey's manager, accepted his offer, but that the time was now too short in which to make preparation.

THE C. M. A. C. DEFEATS STAR GOLFERS GATHER

Four Nations Represented in Chicago Tournament Which Starts Today

CHICAGO, July 10. (By the Associated Press.)—More than 100 golfers today started their qualifying rounds in the national open golf tournament at the Shoklo County club course in which 325 of the world's great players from a field so representative that few will contest the claim of the winners to the title of world champion.
The champions of England, Scotland, Australia and of all sections of the United States, the latter including the Shoklo County club champion, are fighting for victory. The list of contestants including not only the best professionals in the world, but the greatest of this country's amateur, the qualifying rounds will last three days, one-third of the field playing 36 holes each day and the top 24 qualifying for the final round on Sunday and Friday. Those who tie for the 24th position daily automatically qualify so that the final field probably will number several more than the theoretical 72.

CHELMSFORD LOST GAME ON LOST BALLS

Deep grass played havoc with the outfielders of the Chelmsford team Saturday and, coming with the bases loaded, prevented the game to the Townsend Legion team. The last ball went out in order in these two innings. The third proved Stack's undoing. Marcotte reached first on an error by Daniel, but was thrown out by Freeman. The third proved Stack's undoing. There was nothing doing in the fourth, both sides being retired in quick order. The visitors threatened in the fifth, after Tommie Finn had made a wonderful stop and throw-out on Verigan's speedy grounder. Dinlich singled to short left field and went to third on Welch's sacrifice. Freeman singled to center and Freeman was extinguished at first. Dinlich to Bowman.

FAST HORSES START ON GRAND CIRCUIT

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 10.—Thirty-four horses were announced to start at the Grand Circuit meeting at Fort Meigs this afternoon. The event was the 2:05 trot, the 2:00 pace, the 2:20 trot and the 2:05 pace.

The feature event is the Port Meigs 2:05 pace. In this event, Charley Sweet was favorite on account of his victory in the Edwards stake at North Randall last week.

Marvin Childs' Hal Bee also is expected to get a big day from his talent. The fight in the 2:05 trot may be between Peter June and McGregor The Great, the former winning for Green last week.

Centralvilles Win Over Boston

A whirlwind finish by the fast Boston Postoffice team at Spaulding park yesterday afternoon, helped the fans to relish a bit of the "fast" Centralvilles which makes baseball the greatest thing in the game, but the effort came too late, however, and the Centralvilles added another to their string of victories by a score of 5 to 3. The game was by no means the best of the season, but it was topped with few errors and sensational to a unusual degree.
Andrews, the victor of the 14 inning struggle with the Lowell club, pitched a gem for the Centralvilles, covering the bases with a score of 5 to 3. The game was by no means the best of the season, but it was topped with few errors and sensational to a unusual degree.

A catch by McSorley in the sixth inning brought the crowd to its feet. The Boston catcher drove a liner to short right, which "Chucky" went after on the quickstep and captured with a running dive. McSorley over and over after the catch with the ball held at arms' length for the crowd to see. He also hit the center twice, scoring on each hit and sending in another.
For the friend Edith Cawley was stationed at short yesterday, any cry when the game ended the cry was heard: "Cawley out and give us a chance." Cawley accepted seven chances without a slip, many of them difficult to reach.
For the boys, Roach in left and Catter in right provided the real action. In the fourth, Roach went back and took Tyler's long fly with his glove hand, but two out. Tyler on second, ready to score. At the beginning of the same inning, Bradbury led off with a short drive to right, which Catter came tearing in and took just as it was about to strike the ground.
Two good double plays, one by each team, helped to keep the interest at a high pitch. BATTLE ROYAL ON SO. COMMON TONIGHT

Tonight, with a continuance of good weather, the K. of C. aggregation meets Charles' Y.M.C.A. and a battle royal should result. To date, the Battle Royal boys have had a considerable edge on Parkey City's proteges, but with the strengthening which the latter outfit has received since the last meeting there is a prospect, at least, of the tables being turned. Souly, twice or Daley are ready to enter the box for the "Caesars" and Cawley has valuable terms in Orville, Clayton, and if necessary, a third. Although the "Caesars" would like to have him, if necessary, to secure the summer season, one-third of the field playing 36 holes each day and the top 24 qualifying for the final round on Sunday and Friday. BALL GAME TUESDAY IN GRANITEVILLE

Baseball fans from all around are planning to attend the Graniteville game Tuesday when the Salem town team plays the Abbot Worsted at 6:15. This game promises to be one of the best of the season as the Salem town team has some of the finest college ball players in the country in its lineup.

At Union is expected to stiff for the Abbots, and with such stiff attack facing him, he should pitch all the ball. Sullivan is down on his hands, but he is the best pitcher in the line-up of the Salem town team in this locality, and as they have the reputation of being one of the best teams in New England, great crowds are expected from Lowell and the outlying sections.

GERMANY MAKES ANOTHER OFFER

Will Pay Remaining Cash
Debt if Granted Two-Year
Moratorium

British Press Expresses Concern for All Europe Regarding Situation

PARIS, July 10. (By the Associated Press).—A proposal providing for the payment of all the remaining cash installments due this year, providing Germany is granted a moratorium of at least two years, was brought to Paris today by German representatives, according to unofficial information which reached the reparations commission.

German representatives were Dr. Fischer, chairman of the war debts commission and Herr Schroeder, under-secretary of the ministry of finance, who reached Paris during the reparations commission over Germany's financial position. Up to the early afternoon they had not officially presented the reported moratorium plan to the commission.

After a visit to President DuBois of the reparations commission this afternoon, Herr Schroeder expected to call upon each member of the commission separately, outlining the details of the plan and set forth reasons why Germany regards a long moratorium absolutely necessary.

To Meet Friday
It is not expected the proposals will be laid before a full meeting of the commission until Friday. The members of the commission, they have indicated, feel that the immediate reason for the present financial situation in Germany is the failure of Germany to put an end to the wholesale printing of paper marks and the widespread exportation of capital from the country.

In reparations circles, however, the opinion seems daily to be gaining ground that the fundamental reason for the German financial chaos lies in the total reparations required, $32,000,000,000 gold marks, which is regarded in many quarters as impossibly high.

It is further being made clear that no adjustment of the total indemnity to what would be regarded as a reasonable figure can be made with the consent of France, until there is definite settlement of the whole question of the inter-Allied debts which would either result in cancellation or very indefinite postponement of payments. It is explained in French quarters that France cannot possibly pay her debt to the United States under the present conditions.

France, it is declared, would probably agree to a material reduction of the German indemnity if there should be such a readjustment of the inter-Allied obligation, and the opinion was expressed that sooner or later this idea must be laid before the American government. Roland W. Boyden, the American representative with the reparations commission, will return to the United States on the liner France next Saturday, and he is instructed to remain during the present crisis, and will go to Washington to explain the whole situation to Secretary of State Hughes.

British Press Says
LONDON, July 10.—Germany's financial crisis continued to be a subject of paramount concern in the British press, which today discussed the question exhaustively, stressing the danger confronting the whole of Europe. The British government is stated to be extremely anxious, and, according to the Daily Telegraph's diplomatic expert, a special committee of the cabinet is considering the situation, which, it is understood, comes before the full cabinet tomorrow.

STRICKEN WITH CRAMPS

Melrose Highlands Young
Man Drowned in Nuttings
Pond, Billerica, Sunday

Cornelius H. Beeler of 84 York Terrace, Melrose Highlands, was drowned in Nuttings Pond, Billerica, Sunday noon when he was stricken with cramps while swimming from a diving float to the shore, only a few yards away. A girl to whom he was engaged, at terror-stricken in a canoe hardly a paddle-length away from him when he cried out for help and sank beneath the surface of the water. Other men were swimming nearby, but were unable to reach his side before he disappeared. His body was recovered a quarter of an hour later and although physicians worked over him for some time life was extinct.

Beeler, who was a regular week-end visitor at Camp Reklaw on Nuttings Pond, was known as a strong swimmer. A week ago he was seized with cramps while in the water and reached the shore only after a great effort, but yesterday's attack was too severe for him to overcome.

When his body was recovered Dr. E. J. Alley of Billerica and a trained nurse were on the scene and Dr. T. D. Smith was called. When the medical examiner arrived he pronounced the young man as dead and ordered that his body be taken to the rooms of Undertaker J. H. Saunders in the city. His mother and brother in Melrose were notified and they came to Lowell last night.

JADE SUPPLY IS FAST DIMINISHING

It is easy to understand the fascination of Jade, and it is interesting to know how the world's very limited supply is obtained. Manufacturers assert that the jade has become difficult to obtain and the demand for it has increased to such an extent that dealers are bidding actively for all that comes into the market. When one realizes that jade has been quarried for almost countless ages, it is not surprising that the supply is decreasing.

Siberia and the interior of China are almost unexplored. Some very fine specimens of dark green jade have recently come from Siberia from the vicinity of the Albert graphite mine near Lake Baikal.

The costliest variety of jade is emerald green and it must be of a solid color. In quality it is of a greasy and translucent lustre when polished.

There is a great deal of the green and white jade but that variety does not bring so high a price. Strings of jade beads range in prices from $10 to $10,000 and more, according to color and quality. Through a celebrated merchant in London, a fine Chinese service has recently been ordered to cost $100,000.

It seems strange that while in our thoughts we instinctively associate jade with China, it has not been quarried in China for many decades. During the Chou and Han dynasties it is known to have been mined in the Shensi and Shansi provinces. The latter furnished the most beautiful yush (jade) in all China, a kind of white Jasper. Since the Christian era jade has been brought into China from Turkistan. Later Yunnan and Burma were added as sources of supply. The Burma mines were discovered by a Yunnan trader in the 13th century, and down through the centuries to the present day the mining concession has remained with the same tribe.

Implements of true jade have been found widely distributed in Alaska and British Columbia. A curious amulet of dark crimson jade in the form of a whale, rudely fashioned, was found in the region of St. Kaveling, another mine of black jade, adz shaped, China Review.

TO SUPPORT STRIKERS

Presidents of Local Unions
Vote Moral and Financial Assistance to Strikers

At a meeting of the presidents of all the locals affiliated with the American Federation of Labor held in Trades & Labor hall, Central street yesterday afternoon, it was voted to give moral and financial assistance to the employees of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. and the Bay State Cotton Corp., who went out on strike 21 weeks ago as a protest against a 20 per cent wage reduction and also to lend all assistance possible to all other mill operatives who go out on strike as a result of wage cuts.

The meeting was attended by about 100 union representatives and was presided over by Charles E. Anderson, president of the Trades and Labor council, and the speakers were Mr. Anderson and Francis Johnson of Maynard, president of the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America. Both men called for the united support of the Lowell labor movement representing every craft for the textile workers who are asked to accept wage reductions. Later plans were formulated for the moral and financial support of the workers who are affected by strikers and the presidents of crafts present were instructed to report the doings of the meeting to their respective organizations.

At 7 o'clock last evening, a mass meeting was held on the South common with Chairman John Hanley of the strike committee as the presiding officer. The speakers were Frank H. McFarley of Boston, an organizer for the American Federation of Labor; Francis Johnson of Maynard, president of the New England conference board of the U.T.W. of A., and John W. Buey of this city. There was a large attendance and the speeches, which dealt with local textile labor conditions, were listened to with great interest.

The clerical and social democratic parties recently addressed a joint appeal to the German peoples party, urging it to enter the government coalition, but little hope was expressed that a favorable response would be forthcoming, particularly if the independent socialists, radical wing of the socialist group, should enter the government as seemed probable.
